BRIGGS STADIUM, DETROIT, Oct. 5.— (CP) — An outstanding one-hit pitching chore by veteran Claude Passeau gave Chicago Cubs a 3-0 victory over Detroit Tigers here today in the third game of the 1945 world series, giving Cubs a 2-1 lead in games.

It was the greatest pitching masterpiece in world series history. Putting on an amazing show of control and curves before the largest crowd ever to see a series game in Detroit—55,500 — the 36-year-old righthander allowed just two men to get on base—one on a hit, one on a walk—as he set the Tigers down in order in seven of the nine rounds and never was in trouble.

Rudy York singled with two away in the second and was stranded. Catcher Bob Swift walked to lead off the sixth and was wiped out on a double play immediately afterward.

That was the entire extent of the Tiger power as the 36-year-old 16-year veteran in the majors handcuffed their heavy hitters.

8,715 Increase In City Voters Shown in Lists

An increase of 8,715 in the number of names on Edmonton's voters' lists is recorded in 1945, compared with last year, according to figures released Friday by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

The 1945 total is 69,726, compared with 61,011 for the previous year. Of the 1945, total 53,493 of the voters are residents on the north side of the river, and 16,233 on the South Side. In 1944 the total of voters on the north side of the river was 47,146, and on the south side 13,865.

INCLUDE SERVICEMEN

Commenting on the very marked increase in the lists, Mr. Walker said that this year all Edmonton residents serving in the armed forces have been placed on the lists, whether they had returned to the city or not. He pointed to the fact that all persons serving with the armed forces whether resident, stationed in Canada or overseas, were carried in the annual civic census.

Commenting on the proposal of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to increase the polling stations in the city to at least 100, Mr. Walker said that it would not be possible to undertake this change at such a late date.

He pointed also to the fact that a revision of the polling stations was undertaken this year, and that an increase of four stations was sanctioned by city council.

Mr. Walker pointed out that only 140 of 1,523 voters listed in the market building poll cast ballots in the 1944 election, and only 176 of 1,702 on the list voted in the 1943 campaign.

MOST COMPACT POLL

This poll, he said, was one of the most compact in the city. Its boundaries were on the north the Canadian National railway tracks; on the east, the west side of 97 street; on the west, the east side of 101 street; and the south boundary was Macdonald Drive.

He pointed also to the fact that the 42 polls set up for the coming election had been divided into 169 split-polls, which on a voters' list total, would mean approximately 400 names to each polling subdivision.

Mr. Walker said that large rooms were necessary for the taking of the municipal vote.

Unlike provincial or Dominion elections, the election officials in taking the municipal vote, must make provision for sufficient space to house at least three ballot boxes for each split poll, the mayoralty, aldermanic and public school trustee boxes, and in some years it has been necessary to have space sufficient to accommodate six boxes for each poll.

This is necessary when there is a contest for the separate school board vacancies, and a money by-law is being voted on, with a plebiscite being submitted to the electors.

COURT OF REVISION

The court of revision of the civic voters' lists will start on Wednesday, Oct. 10, and will continue through to Oct. 20. The revising officer, to be appointed by city council, will sit at the assessor's office each evening from 8 to 10.

New Highway Link Opened By Ministers

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., Oct. 5—Progressive history was made at Lloydminster on the borders of Alberta and Saskatchewan Thursday, when Hon. J. T. Douglas, minister of highways for Saskatchewan, and Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works for Alberta, jointly officially opened the new highway, No. 17, which runs south on the 4th meridian, connecting the Evergreen Route with the Trans-Canada Highway No. 40.

At 4.30 p.m., a parade of Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides, Brownies, the High and Public School students, and a large number of town officials and citizens arrived at the junction of the new highway and the Evergreen Route, where the official ceremony took place.

SPECIAL CEREMONY

Following the singing of O Canada and a prayer offered by Rev. Peckover, O. C. Yates, president of the Lloydminster board of trade, gave a brief review of the history of the Barr colony, pointing out that they had won many Dominion and international awards for their grain and livestock and that Lloydminster had the first united hospital, the first joint school board, the first successful co-operative creamery, the first natural gas production in Saskatchewan and the first town or city to use it in the province and more recently the

Living Link Between Old and New Awaits Edmontons at Winnipeg

By JACK DeLONG
Edmonton Bulletin Staff Reporter

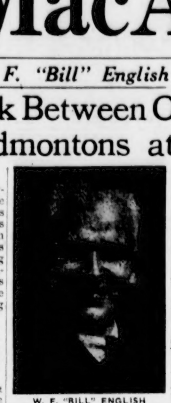

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—A living, dynamic link between the old and new of Edmonton's great fighting regiments was as exciting as a schoolboy on the eve of summer holidays as the CNR specials bringing The Loyal Edmonton Regiment home from the glories of the Second World War were about to roll into Winnipeg Friday.

The link was W. F. "Bill" English, vice-president of Trans-Canada Air Lines, a resident of Winnipeg, who served with the famed 49th Bn., CEF of Edmonton in the First Great War.

The Forty Ninth was the parent infantry battalion that brought fame and glory to Edmonton as a unit in the great struggle of 1914-18.

JUST 'HIS' REGIMENT

And to Bill English, graying, but still soldierly erect, and a great regiment man, any Edmonton fighting unit is "his" regiment.

W. F. "BILL" ENGLISH

As an example of Bill's enthusiasm, he was up in The Edmonton Bulletin staff writer's quarters in the Fort Garry hotel hours before the first train load of the homecoming Loyal Edmonton's were due in steam into Winnipeg's Canadian National Railway station.

"You bet your life I'll be down to meet the boys," were Mr. English's words when The Bulletin reporter telephoned him at his office with the suggestion that he might like to join in the big welcome home to the gallant lads of the present Edmonton Regiment.

And to make certain he missed nothing he decided to be at the station with plenty of time—about two hours—as a safety margin.

FORMER EDMONTONIAN

Mr. English was accompanied by another former Edmontonian, who did much of his fighting in the recent war in a famed Edmonton unit that proudly and magnificently carried the name of Alberta's capital city to fresh glories. He is Paul Y. Davoud, DFC, recently Wing-Cmdr. Davoud of the RCAF who commanded the famed City of Edmonton Mosquito Intruder Squadron for about 10 months. He

Post War RCAF Will Muster 20,000 Men in 10 Squadrons

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Tentative set-up of Canada's post-war air force was outlined last night in the Commons by Air Minister Gibson in the face of sharp Progressive Conservative criticism of defence expenditures.

Pressed for details after indicating a force of 15,000 to 20,000 men Col. Gibson said it would consist of 10 squadrons—four bomber, three transport, two fighter and one reconnaissance.

He said he hesitated to predict this long range division because Canada's commitments under international security arrangements had not been determined.

Plans called for an auxiliary force which would necessarily include a number of permanent force personnel to conduct training, maintain equipment and buildings and a reserve force of qualified person-

Tiny Police Pup Prized "Trophy" Of City Troops

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Oct. 5.—Most prized possession being brought home by the men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment is a small black police dog pup, acquired in Holland before they left the continent. Answering to the name of "Buddy" the pup has been carefully hidden and shepherded past careful guards and immigration officers in Holland, England and Canada.

"Captured" by the men of "D" Company, the pup has been in the care of one of the sergeants of the company. He is fed by the men at mealtimes and receives the freedom of the entire train.

The pup is only a few weeks old. The men expect him to march in the parade with them. In case it gets too long a march for his short legs, they have detailed one of the sergeants to carry him.

Youth Is Jailed On Forgery Count

As the result of an unlucky coincidence, George Palenko, youthful Edmontonian, was occupying a cell at police headquarters Friday, facing a charge of uttering forged documents.

The coincidence, in police reports, was traced back to an investigation carried out by Detective Alex. Stevenson Thursday afternoon with regard to a worthless check that had been passed in a 101 street second-hand store. The check had been passed several days previously.

While discussing the forgery with the manager of the store, a young man entered the premises and purchased some harness equipment, paying for it with a cheque. Immediately the manager identified Det. Stevenson examined the cheque. It had been made out by the man wanted for the previous forgery job.

The detective followed the man in a police car and apprehended him a few minutes later several blocks from the store.

In city police court Friday, Palenko was adjourned to Oct. 12, pending further investigation.

Edmontons Worry Over Appearance In Coming Parade

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Oct. 5—As they come closer and closer to Edmonton the biggest worry of men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, due to parade through city streets Saturday, is what kind of an appearance they will be able to make on Saturday when they were all busy polishing their shoes, the brass on their belts, busy cleaning their belts and anklets, and polishing their cap badges they were worried about the press in their uniforms.

Since leaving England, Sept. 26 they have not had an opportunity of pressing their uniforms. In spite of the efforts of Lt.-Col. W. T. Cromb, DSO, commanding the unit, to provide facilities for pressing their uniforms, it has been impossible to make the necessary arrangements.

So the men are trying to figure out ways of pressing their pants at least. Each night as they go to bed pants are carefully laid out under their mattresses—but mattress presses only last for an hour or so at the best. "We hope the public will look at our boots, brass, and ribbons and not worry about the creases in our trousers", one man stated.

Contradict Ruling On Police Chiefs

From CP, AP and British UP Dispatches

HEADQUARTERS ALLIED ARMY OF OCCUPATION, TOKYO, Oct. 5.—Storm clouds were seen in the political offing today as the Japanese Home Office ordered provincial police chiefs to hold on to their offices for the time being. This was a direct contravention of the order issued by General MacArthur, who had given explicit instructions that they be ousted from their posts.

Whether it means that the militarists are preparing to defy General MacArthur and have an immediate showdown is not yet apparent, but American reaction to the move is resolute, and if military action must be taken to enforce the Allies' demands it can be depended upon to be immediate and effective.

The Home Office's hint at potential defiance of General MacArthur came as Japanese diplomats secured about in an effort to form a government to replace that of Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni, which was overthrown by the Supreme Commander's sweeping reform orders.

LIKELY CHOICE

Shigeru Yoshida, foreign minister in the fallen cabinet and leader of a peace movement for which he was arrested as early as last June, looked to be the most likely candidate for the leadership of the new government.

Amidst the government shakeup the home office instructed Japan's provincial police chiefs to disregard General MacArthur's removal orders "pending decisions on future steps."

The home office directive told the police chiefs to stay on the job.

Laval Puts Up Crafty Battle Save His Life

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—Pierre Laval, fighting craftily for his life, belabored a French high court jury today with an impassioned insistence that he never agreed to make France a vassal of Germany.

Laval, seizing the first opportunity in his treason trial to launch into a full dress defence, declaimed that he had tried to protect France from Nazi demands. He charged that Marshal Henri Philippe Petain himself connived to treason and serving the Nazi Reich to which his death sentence was commuted—put France under the Vichy dictatorship.

Laval

The second day of the trial ended at 6.15 p.m. Court will reconvene at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The drawn and haggard Laval plunged into his own defence after Judge Pierre Mongibeaux overruled urgent requests both by Laval and his counsel for an indefinite postponement of the trial. They pleaded for more time to prepare their case.

Laval was permitted to return to court with a stern warning from Mongibeaux, who last night ordered him off for good because of his "insulting" behavior throughout the first hectic day of the trial.

DRAMATIC PROTESTS

Working up to dramatic climaxes, Laval protested that he was being made the scapegoat for everything that caused the downfall of France.

"I never agreed that my country be a vassal of Germany," he cried at one point. "I never agreed, M. Le President, that my country be second to any."

"Strange as it may seem to you, I

Change Coupon Value of Most Cooked Meats

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley announced today in the Commons that the prices board was taking steps to change the coupon values of most cooked meats.

Mr. Ilsley added that assuming these meats could not be ration free "through lack of a practicable alternative to all interested sections of the trade."

Earlier Mr. Ilsley had announced temporary lifting of restrictions on the rationing of fancy cuts such as liver, kidney and hearts.

Mr. Ilsley made his statement after John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, had asked if he had anything to say as the result of suggestions made to government committee examining officials by representatives of the Retail Merchants' Association last Wednesday.

He said the Prices Board was "carefully reviewing" the various detailed proposals which the dealers and "I am able to say that the board will be making changes in the coupon values of some of these items which will go a long way in meeting the consensus of views developed with the retail advisory committee."

Germans' Brutalities In Holland Described

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

SIOUX LOOKOUT, Ont., Oct. 5.—Hardships and brutalities suffered by the Dutch people at the hands of German soldiers while Hitler's henchmen occupied the Netherlands were unbelievable, declared Capt. E. B. Bradish, Loyal Edmonton Regiment, when interviewed aboard the special train bringing his unit home from Europe.

Captain Bradish, whose home is in Chilliwack, B.C., was intelligence officer for Second Brigade during most of the Italian and all of the Holland campaign. His duties included investigation of all reports of German brutality and he was in constant contact with Dutch underground workers.

No people in Europe suffered more than the loyal Dutch, he declared. While in Holland Capt. Bradish married a Dutch girl. He was one of the first Canadian officers to be married in Holland. Another officer of the Edmonton's,

Worst Edmonton Fight Said For Dutch Town

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Oct. 5.—Thrice-wounded veteran of the Sicilian, Italian and Holland campaigns, Sgt. J. F. Turione, of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, who left his home in High Prairie, Alberta, to go overseas early in 1940, believes that the toughest battle he was ever in took place in Holland, against fanatical German SS troops on April 14 and 15 this year just before VE Day.

During that 18 hour scrap C Company of the Edmontons, of which Turione was a platoon commander, had to withdraw from the town three times to replenish their ammunition supply before the last of the Germans were either killed or taken prisoner.

The company suffered 21 casualties, of whom four were killed. "But we took nearly 60 prisoners. I don't know exactly how many Germans we killed but we found the bodies of 29 of them in one house after we had fired 11 Piat bombshells into it," he explained.

The company commander, Capt.

"What made it tough was that the Germans had artillery support while we had to rely entirely on our 2-inch mortars, our Pists, and our small arms fire. We had to carry our own ammunition and keep running out," Turions stated.

IN BERLIN MARCH

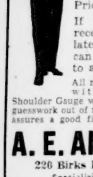

Later Turions transferred to B company to march into Berlin. That was the best time of the entire war he said. "The city was ours for the asking and the Germans knew who was boss man." Turions was wounded first at Ortona, and finally at Cattolica, all in Italy.

"Right now I want to see the lights of Jasper avenue again," he said when interviewed aboard the special train speeding the Edmontons westward toward the "Gateway to the North."

Wheat Limitation Lift Gets Praise

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3.—(CP)—W. J. Parker, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, said here yesterday that federal government action in lifting the 14-bushel per acre limitation on wheat deliveries for the present crop year, is "obviously the only thing to be done at this time. All producers readily agreed to the restricted quota when the domestic and export market would not absorb all of the crop produced. Obviously, present world requirements now demand delivery of all wheat produced.

too has an electrical reaction to the name of Edmonton.

Honorably discharged from the RCAF last July after several years of service overseas with the rank of group captain, Davoud resided for some time in Edmonton back in the thirties when he was a bush pilot pal of Capt. W. R. "Wop" May, OBE, DFC, and C. H. "Punch" Dickins, OBE, on the staff of Canadian Airways Ltd.

Mr. English enlisted with the 35th Bn. of Toronto early in the First Great War and went to the 49th in March of 1916.

HUMBLE "FOOTSLOGGER"

From then until the end of the war he served as a humble but gallant footslogger with the great Edmonton infantry unit originally commanded by the late Maj. Gen. W. A. Griesbach, CB, CMG, DSO, V.

He helped repell the savage German attack at Sanctuary Wood in June 1916 and served in other battle in the bloody salient at Ypres.

During the Somme offensive in the summer and fall of 1916 he stopped enemy lead during the storming of Courcellette on September 15, 1916.

He rejoined the unit but did not return to Edmonton with them in 1919, remaining in Eastern Canada. He was a sergeant for many months. He has never let the old regiment down and is a regular and enthusiastic attendant at the annual reunions of the 49th Bn. Association held in Edmonton each winter.

He was looking forward to meeting a former comrade of the stirring First Great War days now with the Royal Edmontons, Johnny Ferrugin, a Maltese who was with the 49th in the First Great War.

nel which, he hoped, would be called up for a period of training each year.

COMPLAINTS VOICED

Complaints that insufficient detail of war department expenditures was given the house were made by Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC, Nanaimo), Lt.-Col. Alan Cockeram (PC, York South), J. M. Macdonnell (PC, Muskoka-Ontario) and Lt. Col. Cecil Merrill, V.C. (PC, Vancouver Burrard). Some of them suggested the minister take his estimates back and revise them.

At the end of the sitting John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said the opposition wanted to help the minister and suggested he bring in actual figures on expenditures for the first five months of the year. Col. Gibson said he would do that Friday.

Col. Cockeram noted that average monthly outlays for the last seven months of the fiscal year for which money now is being voted were not much reduced from the average for the first five months, covered by funds voted last March.

He said he questioned high outlays for gasoline when training flying had been largely reduced.

SHARP REDUCTION

Col. Gibson said average monthly outlays meant little since amounts contracted for first five months in expenditures months later. The fact was there had been a sharp reduction in expenditures.

The gasoline item was due entirely to a change in the method of payment. During the operations of the air training plan, Britain was under contract to supply the gasoline and obtained it from the United States at lower prices. Since then that arrangement had been discontinued and Canada had paid for all gasoline.

Col. Gibson announced that a permanent strength of between 15,000 and 20,000 was planned.

The pre-war strength of the air force was about 4,000 with an auxiliary of 3,000 men and no reserve.

Col. Gibson made the disclosure in presenting his departmental estimates which amounted to $598,400,000, a decrease of more than 45 per cent over the last fiscal year's estimates of $1,090,000,000.

The specific strength and composition of the post-war force won't be known definitely until the government has to decide the nature and extent of any commitments that we may have under international or regional security agreements."

REGULAR FORCE

"The regular force should comprise all branches of air force activities, including bomber, fighter and transport squadrons, together with the necessary ancillary units, and for this purpose a strength of from 15,000 to 20,000 personnel is planned.

"The auxiliary force will be made up of squadrons based at strategic points throughout the dominion and corresponds to the militia units of the army. These squadrons will provide opportunities for our young men to qualify for their wings or to secure training in their ground-crew trades.

"The reserve will be made up of qualified air and ground personnel who, in an emergency, may be recalled for further service. Meanwhile, like the members of the auxiliary force, they will continue their normal peacetime occupations."

Plans for the post-war regular force include the perpetuation of squadrons which fought and won the air battles over Europe. These will be localized as far as possible in the districts with which they were affiliated during their service overseas. Presumably, the continuing names might be the City of Quebec les Alouettes squadron and the City of Vancouver Pathfinder squadron, both with enviable war records.

SQUADRONS TRAIN

In this same connection, Col. Gibson said that two of the eight heavy bomber squadrons which will be destined for Pacific service are continuing a program of training. The other six have been disbanded.

While the regular force is awaiting amendments on its final size and shape, an interim force of unspecified strength and composed of volunteers, will operate for two years to provide personnel for the occupation force of about 10,000 airmen overseas and the home establishment.

It also will be used as a proving ground for personnel.

Col. Gibson added: "These two years will give our officers an opportunity to evaluate the fitness of personnel for the peace-time role of the RCAF and at the same time enable those who join to decide if they wish to make a career in the service." Those who enroll will be in a "favorable position for permanent appointment."

RESEARCH DIVISION

Also for the future the RCAF has established a division of research and development which will explore the new field of atomic energy and experiment in the sphere of cold weather operations.

In the same field a radio wave propagation unit has been established to find a means of combating radio black spots peculiar to Canada so that contact may be maintained at all times on all wireless circuits.

He added that no decision had yet been reached as to the employment of women in the permanent force.

Cost of Living Reveals Decline

OTTAWA, Oct. 5—(CP)—The Dominion bureau of statistics reported yesterday that its official cost-of-living index, calculated on the basis that 1935-1939 equals 100, declined 0.6 points to 119.9 between Aug. 1 and Sept. 1 but was still up 19.9 per cent over the base period. Fluctuations in the index have not been reflected in wage rates since cost-of-living bonuses were merged with basic wage rates under the federal government's wage-control order. As in the preceding four months, foods accounted for most of the August fluctuation.

Nazi Brutalities

Major J. A. Dougan, NIC, also chartried a Dutch girl some weeks after Captain Bradish's marriage.

COLLABORATOR EXECUTED

"One of the underground boys who was working for me as an interpreter came up to me on May 26 and told me that the previous day the underground had arrested a Dutch collaborator, whose job had been to bury Dutch underground workers caught by the Germans," recalled the captain.

"Dutch underground men from Haarlem had already started the exhumation of these mass graves. When I got there they had already emptied one mass grave containing 18 bodies and were uncovering two more. The Dutch collaborator had stated that between Sept. 15, 1944 and April 15, 1945, he had buried approximately 400 men from the province of Noord-Holland.

"They were all in mass graves of 15 with the exception of one large one which held 130 bodies. The stench was horrible. Doctors from Haarlem were examining the bodies when I arrived and I examined half a dozen myself. They assured me the others were exactly the same. We found in each case that the man had been shot through the stomach, low down, and then a coup de grace given him later through the back of the head."

ALL PAPERS TAKEN

All papers and identifications were stripped from the bodies with the exception of one man. This was an eminent medical specialist from Haarlem. In his pocket was his doctor's white cap. One of the doctors working on the graves was a close friend of this man and he identified him.

Most of the bodies had been mutilated. Legs were broken, feet were crushed and in some cases were stripped from their teeth. Apparently the Germans had been interested in robbery as well as torture Captain Bradish recalled.

Later they found the body of an 18-year-old girl. The collaborator couldn't remember which grave she was in at first, because "we were too drunk when we did it to remember."

The chief of the underground turned to me and said, "why, just because they were Dutchmen. That is why they are dead, do you wonder that we hate the Germans".

TERRIBLE SIGHT

"It is bad enough to see our own boys dead in the field. But then we expect that because we are soldiers. But to see civilians in mass graves like that is a thing of hell. The captain said shaking his head as though to shake the horrible memory from his mind.

"Germans made no attempt to feed the Dutch, they had to exist entirely by the black market. That is why conditions were so bad when we came in. In Amsterdam civilians died on the streets from starvation, the only food some of them had were their precious tulip bulbs.

"As far as the Germans were concerned they didn't want the Dutch to live. For no reason at all people were sent off to concentration camps never to return. They shot Dutch on the streets and didn't bother to remove the bodies or to give any kind of help to the wounded.

ENVIED THOSE DEAD

"Those who lived often envied those who died. During the winter of 1944-45 whole families would split up leaving one member to guard the house and they would go by foot and bicycle all over the northern provinces looking for food. Money was practically valueless so they took their jewellery and silver to trade for vegetables and grain.

"Prices were fantastic. Trips of 200 miles were nothing to them. There was no electricity in the cities, no gas, and the only fuel they had to cook with and keep warm was old magazines and newspapers. Sometimes they could steal wood from the Germans and the collaborators, but to be caught was to be killed. Canadians don't know how lucky they are," he stated.

Laval Trial

stayed in power for four years to prevent Petain from launching a new constitution which did not conform to the one I had promised my colleagues of the senate and chamber."

GIVES "REASONS"

He gave as his reasons for staying in the government to protect France against Nazi extortion and secondary, to make sure that Petain's promises when the assembly voted him full powers would be carried out.

Asked by Mongibeaux whether he was not the head of the Vichy government Laval snapped:

"No, I was minister of state—that is to say, a mere figure-head. I had no authority over the Marshal. I deny the prosecution's argument that simply because I was a member of the government I was automatically responsible for everything it did and responsible for all the abuses carried out in its name."

ASKS "HUMANENESS"

Protesting that he was the victim of an ugly legend," Laval pleaded with the jury to reserve judgment until I have fully explained myself."

He wound up with an appeal to Montigbeaux to be humanitarian. He observed that he had been talking for hours, had to work throughout the night, and needed a recess. The judge granted it.

Laval's lawyers, serving unwillingly after first refusing the case, pleaded for more time to prepare the defence. They charged that the preliminary examination of Laval was "superficial", that the trial constituted "prejudiced hostility" against their client, and that "this type of French justice will make a terrible impression on America and Britain."

Mongibeaux retired for 30 minutes to deliberate the appeal. Returning to the courtroom, he overruled the request for postponement and ordered the trial to proceed.

REVERSES STAND

Laval was in court today by sufference of the harried and sore-tempered Mongibeaux. The first session yesterday broke up when the judge ordered Laval to get out of the courtroom and not come back. He reprimanded himself with a sharp warning to Laval:

"Contrary to what I said yesterday, and at the unanimous request of the jury and counsel, you will attend this session and furnish all necessary explanations.

"But I remind you for the last time that you must not create any trouble. If you raise your voice, I shall use the weapons that the law places at my disposal, and for the first time perhaps a trial under rules of examination and cross examination will take place without the defendant."

Laval muttered inaudibly under his ragged moustache.

FORCED TO SERVE

The reluctant defence lawyers, Albert Naud and Jacques Barraduc, took the case they refused yesterday after the Paris bar Association threatened to strike their names from its rolls.

When court opened today, Naud started reading a letter from the president of the association withdrawing Mongibeaux's dismissal. The judge called him to order.

The round-faced Naud, owlish in horn rimmed spectacles, pleaded for more time to study the case and mentioned the effect misplaced justice would have on the United States and Great Britain. Barraduc, tall and sharp-nosed, branded the proceedings "prejudiced hostility" against Laval. In a rising voice he cried:

"The calendar is the prosecution's chief weapon against Laval."

The reference was to the forthcoming elections which may displace the present court and jurors.

READY LONG AGO

Mongibeaux's temper was rising and he tried repeatedly to silence Barraduc. Prosecutor Andre Mornet rose suddenly and attacked both defence lawyers. He said the case against Laval "was ready for trial on the day of liberation."

Despite the judge's repeated warnings, Naud and Barraduc clamored to be heard. Finally the court retired to consider the request for postponement.

As Laval took his seat in court with the defence counsel standing behind him, Judge Pierre Mongibeaux leaned forward over the bench and said:

"I am glad to see the defence is here, Laval, you can be present at the trial."

When court adjourned late yesterday, Mongibeaux had ordered Laval hustled out of court and kept away from the trial, which then appeared destined to proceed without the presence of the defendant or defence counsel.

Highway Opened

first place in Saskatchewan to produce oil in commercial quantities.

The road, he claimed, had been neglected during the years until 1944 when no less than 12 cars were stuck on it at one time. It was then that efforts were renewed to have the road built. Saskatchewan did not consider it a provincial responsibility to build the road as it was equally used by Alberta citizens. Through the efforts of Hon. W. A. Fallow, the Alberta government promised to finance half of the cost of the road with the result that the two governments jointly built this new fine modern highway.

Saskatchewan had a change of government since then, but Hon. J. T. Douglas, the new minister of highways, proved equal to the occasion and although he was asked to build roads in other parts of the province, took the long view and continued with the original project and saw it completed, and on behalf of Lloydminster and district Mr. Yates thanked these two gentlemen for their efforts.

JUST WAGON TRAIL

Dr. G. L. Cooke, mayor of Lloydminster, recalled the condition of the road when it was no more than a wagon trail and reviewed briefly the efforts for the past 33 years to have the road built. He also expressed the pleasure of the town of having the two ministers as its guests on such an occasion.

Hon. W. A. Fallow and Hon. J. T. Douglas then cut the tape stretched across the road under the waving flags and officially opened the highway.

This road will be a great boom to the oil companies who are operating south of the town and the honor of being the first vehicles to cross the line after the official opening went to the oil trucks.

Jap Defiance

It added that immediate dissolution of the police chief setup would have "a considerable bearing upon the domestic situation."

SIGNIFICANCE UNKNOWN

Lacking a time element to compare with the ouster date of Oct. 10, the true significance of the home office order was uncertain. It was designed to test the temper of General MacArthur's order, it is the way open for a full retreat if necessary.

Yoshida conferred with General MacArthur's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland. He sought an audience with the Supreme Commander himself, but was referred to Sutherland. They talked for an hour, and Yoshida emerged showing evidence of emotional strain after being told that the orders must be obeyed.

Yoshida also conferred with Emperor Hirohito and with Prince Fumimaro Konoye, four-time premier before the war. Japanese quarters speculated that the new premier would be either Yoshida or Konoye.

Baron Kijuro Shidehara, 72-year-old former Foreign Minister, who had been mentioned as a possibility as the new premier, said today that he was too old to take over the post and that formation of a cabinet would be beyond his powers. He made his decision after giving full consideration to the proposal.

Survey Reveals

Less Than 40 Edmontons With Unit Since Sicily

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent
Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

FOLEYET, Ont., Oct. 5.—Fewer than 40 of the men returning with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment were with the unit when it landed on the south shores of Sicily on July 10, 1943, a survey of the unit reveals. Most of these old timers were in support and headquarters company. Only a few have seen continuous service with the rifle companies.

These men were generally agreed that the roughest day in the battle history of the regiment was May 23, 1944, the day that the First Canadian Division cracked through the Hitler Line. Others nominated Ortona and Vino Ridge as the hottest spots. All were agreed that Ortona was probably the worst for the rifle companies—especially as it lasted longer.

Men who had been to Berlin were almost unanimous in naming their 3-week stay there as the best time they had while in the army. Here they met Americans and Russian troops. The Germans were so glad to see them after having been kicked around by the Russian occupation troops that many of them wept the day the Canadians marched out of the city, Pte. J. W. Thomas, of Dapp, Alberta, reported.

Thomas first saw action on the Anzio beachhead in Italy with the 1st Canadian Special Service Battalion—part of the Special Service Brigade formed of Canadian and American troops and under American command. With them he took part in the invasion of the south of France, landing 8 miles from Marseilles on Aug. 14, 1944.

RETURNED TO UNIT

When the Special Service Brigade was broken up in December last year Thomas returned to The Loyal Edmontons, joining them in the Senio River winter line, and has been with them ever since. He went into Berlin with B company.

Although he thinks the American weapons are superior to the Canadian weapons he believes that the Americans do too much to try to make their soldiers comfortable. A soldier should be encouraged to do more for himself. "I had a tough time when I first came to the Edmontons. But I think that our harder discipline makes better soldiers. Our men work more as a team than the Americans did. That means we had fewer casualties," he stated.

Russian soldiers were particularly hard on Germans in Berlin, Thomas stated. He was not impressed with them. They didn't seem to take much pride in their personal appearance. Their uniforms weren't smartly cut and they were very dirty, he said. There didn't seem to be much discipline and they seemed to be free to do just as they pleased.

CONTINUOUS ACTION

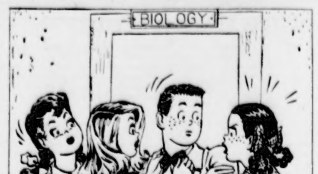

Those who have seen continuous action with the unit, less time out when they became casualties include Pte. G. W. Twaits, 12121 91 street, Edmonton, who drove a ration truck most of the time, and who declared he was scaredest at Vino Ridge; Pte. R. N. Norton of Tofield, another truck driver, who claimed the Hitler Line was the worst show; Pte. T. W. Hulbert of Surrey Centre, BC, who had jaundice and missed Ortona, Pte. M. J. Miller who landed as a Reen gunner and is now on his way back to his home at 11638 88 street Edmonton.

Pte. K. M. Rodger of Calgary, found Belgium "the nicest thing to home I ever saw." Pte. W. D. Brown of Trail, B.C., who was wounded at Vino Ridge; Pte. J. Thomson of Gunn, who missed Vino Ridge; Cpl. E. Jelinski of Regina, who was wounded near San Leonardo; Pte. R. L. Castagner, of Two Hills, who was wounded north of Ortona but figured the worst fighting was at Vino Ridge; Pte. J. Ashmore of Blue Ridge, who liked Holland best; Sgt. C. Walker of Clairmont, who thought the Hitler Line was the hardest to take; Sgt. F. Evans of Edmonton, who liked the rest the regiment had at Piedmont after the Hitler Line; and Sgt. A. F. Schaffler of Provost, who was clipped in the Hitler Line. Pte. A. A. Schug of Provost, who thinks this trip home is the best part of the entire war.

Canada Agrees Increase Bacon Going Overseas

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Canada has agreed to increase her bacon shipments to Britain by 6,000 long tons during October and November in an effort to maintain the British bacon ration at three ounces weekly, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced yesterday in the Commons.

That will boost Canadian shipments of bacon from 11,000 to 14,000 long tons for each of the two months.

Mr. Gardiner said this decision followed a trans-Atlantic telephone call from Sir Ben Smith, British food minister, who asked for larger supplies and said that it would be necessary to reduce the British ration to two ounces weekly if an increase in shipments was not available.

EFFECT IN CANADA

Rationing experts said it was too early yet to determine how much effect the increased shipments would have on the amount of bacon available to Canadian consumers. This would depend to a large extent on how heavy the hog run was in the next few weeks and how many of the hogs marketed were high grade. All low grade bacon was diverted to domestic channels, with high grades going overseas.

Canada's bacon commitments to Britain for the 1945 calendar year total 450,000,000 pounds, of which approximately 350,000,000 pounds already have been shipped, leaving 100,000,000 pounds still to be sent. The addition of 6,000 long tons increases the overall total by about 13,440,000 pounds.

The British government had asked Canada to increase shipments of bacon in the next two months from 11,000 scheduled for October and November to 14,000 tons in each of these months.

The Canadian government had said it could easily hold October shipments at 11,000 tons and increase November shipments to 18,000. The British government had said that unless more bacon was received in October it would have to reduce the ration and the final appeal came in a telephone call from Sir Ben Smith who said the food position was more difficult than at any time during the war. The reason was that Britain was assisting in feeding Allied countries.

MAINTAIN MARKET

Mr. Gardiner said it was not only on humanitarian grounds that Canada should strive to fill the British needs but also in this country's self interest in maintaining a future export market.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said he supported the minister's plea that the British need be filled, but he could not refrain from criticizing a government 'policy which had failed to encourage production last spring when it was obvious that production was decreasing.

Both M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader, offered the support of their parties to the plea for additional bacon for export.

V-E Day Rioters Receive Clemency

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Twelve of 16 men given jail sentences for participation in the Halifax VE-Day riots have been released as a result of a justice department review of the sentences, Justice Minister St. Laurent said yesterday in the Commons.

Three of the men released were naval ratings, two were members of the Merchant Navy, four were Army personnel and three were civilians.

The justice department had not received the necessary reports yet to make a study of the individual cases of 10 Army men and seven civilians sentenced to penitentiary terms for participation in the riots. The reports would be studied and clemency recommended if warranted.

Mr. St. Laurent said that offences arising out of the VE-Day riots had been considered to be on a special basis.

Five Billion Cut From U.S. Tax Bill By The Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The House of Representatives ways and means committee approved yesterday a peacetime tax cut of $5,300,000,000 for individual and corporation incomes.

The measure sweeps 12,000,000 persons off the income tax rolls completely after this year, in an over-all $2,600,000,000 easement of tax liabilities for individuals.

The committee voted only partial repeal of the 90 per cent excess profits tax on corporations for 1946 but put the corporation combined normal and excess rate from 40 per cent to 36 per cent. This will reduce corporate burdens by $1,900,000,000.

Investigation Is In Order

Senator Bench of Toronto made the constructive suggestion that a committee of the Senate investigate the threatening nation-wide strike of packing-house employees. He might broaden the proposal and include also the meat-ration "holiday" of coal miners that has stopped production in western fuel-producing areas on the eve of winter.

In both these cases the public are immediately and vitally involved. Their interest takes precedence over that of the employees concerned, the plant-owners, and the Prices Board. The public must have meat and coal. That is why packing-houses and coal mines exist. The consumer keeps these concerns going and has a right to insist that his supplies shall not be cut off.

For whatever reason or reasons the machinery for the settlement of industrial interruptions does not seem to be working very satisfactory. Perhaps an investigation, launched by a Senate committee, would help toward solutions in these two very important cases and have a salutary effect on the industrial situation generally.

Such hearings are usually long drawn-out, and in the present circumstances speedy action is essential. But if it were announced that an investigation would be made, public opinion would bring pressure on all concerned to keep the plants and mines producing while the hearings were being held. That is a matter of vital public concern.

A Commission Could Help

First Great War soldier settlers who have not yet succeeded in repaying the loans made to them so many years ago, with interest, are not very likely to succeed in doing so. They are getting on in years. They were heavily handicapped by over-priced land and equipment in the beginning. They have failed to pay out mainly because bad crops and poor prices prevented them doing so.

The debate in parliament the other day showed that all this is well enough understood by the members. Nobody claimed to think the delinquents can still overtake their debts. Nobody said they should be required to. There was general recognition that they have paid enough, should have the balances written off and be given clear title to their land.

There is nothing new in this. The facts have long been apparent. And the conclusion that the decent thing to do is to give them their titles is general. But this hasn't been done, and there is no sign that it will be done as a result of the debate. What seems to be hindering action is a suspicion that if those who have not paid were forgiven some who have paid would say they were discriminated against and should get a rebate.

Why not then a fact-finding commission, including representatives of the settlers who have paid, to go about, examine cases, and make a report to parliament? If the commission said that the few remaining debts should be forgiven, no person could get anywhere with a claim that he had been discriminated against because he had been favored by good crops and thus enabled to pay for his farm.

The Demand Grows

If the provincial governments accept the federal plan for financial re-adjustments and the setting up of a social security system, legislation to amend the present Old Age pension scheme will be introduced in parliament "as soon as possible"—which seems to mean at the present session.

This is the news summary of a statement made by Hon. Bruce Claxton during a debate on pensions on Wednesday. The resolution, submitted by opposition members, was that pensions of $50 per month should be paid at the age of sixty years, with no means test.

The plan to which the minister referred was submitted at the federal-provincial conference a few weeks ago. It is to be taken up when the conference is resumed early in November. The pension arrangement therein proposed is $30 per month to all persons 70 years and over, regardless of income, and of the same amount to persons between 65 and 69 if the need is shown.

For the time nothing comes of the debate. It is unlikely that the mover of the resolution expected it to be adopted, for the original proposal is still on the conference agenda, and is part of a general security plan which has not yet been discussed.

But it is well worth while that the matter was brought before parliament in this way. It brought support from all parties for the idea that the present pension scheme is obsolete, that the allowances should be larger, that the age limit should be lower, and that the means test should be discarded absolutely.

These changes should be made. They should be made without delay. They should be made whether the provinces accept the federal readjustment plan as it stands or insist on modifications. When the conference re-assembles, both federal and provincial representatives will have fresh evidence that there is a growing public demand for revision of the pension scheme along these lines.

—V—

The basis of the seed grain debt settlement is that Saskatchewan pays the principal of the debt and the Dominion cancels the interest charges. That seems fair enough, since the debt was incurred to enable drought-stricken farmers to sow their land. Both federal and provincial authorities have a responsibility when such unpreventable conditions arise.

—V—

Rice riots have started in Japan. They are likely to grow worse, and become a prominent feature of the social scene during the winter. Japan stole the Burma rice crops of two or three years and projected famine in Bengal as a consequence. Unless the Allies intervene and dole out supplies, retributive justice is pretty certain to exact a heavy penalty in Japanese cities and villages before another rice crop ripens.

—V—

The authorities at Warsaw estimate that one-fifth of Poland's pre-war population died in battle or under the Nazi race-reduction program of starvation, cruelty camps and death factories. From six to seven million Poles are said to have thus perished, a considerable number fighting outside Poland for the Allies. This helps to explain why there has been a heavy exodus of Germans out of the eastern territory which is ear-marked for annexation to Poland. The fugitives fear that the Poles may do as they have been done by.

—V—

General MacArthur has found it necessary to issue an order for the abolition of Japan's "thought police". These practitioners of political witchcraft have been employed to smell out those who harbored thoughts of disloyalty to the military gangsters and clap them into jail. They comprised the gestapo, Japanese style, and their business was to stifle free thinking as their fellow-snoopers did in Nazi Germany. The "thought police" will be lucky if they are not shot or hanged, as they richly deserve.

The Future of the Ruhr

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

The French have been pressing the Foreign Ministers' conference for a settlement of the Rhine-Ruhr question. Their proposal is to detach it from the Reich and award it to France.

There has been American support for "internationalizing" the Ruhr-Rhine territory. It was a plank in the Republican platform in the last elections and must have the support of John Foster Dulles, who is one of the advisers of Mr. Byrnes. But what does "internationization" mean?

Dorothy Thompson

If the Rhine-Ruhr problem is broken down into its components, two leading facts are important.

The territory is unquestionably German, in that it has for centuries belonged to Germany and is populated by Germans. But it is also the heart-centre of European coal and industry. It is, for instance, so important to Holland that the Dutch would probably oppose awarding it to France. All Europe west of the Oder, is to greater or less degree dependent upon it. It would certainly be more rational to award it to France and help it flourish outside the Reich than de-industrialize it, which would mean crippling the chief source of European industrial energy.

But what would then happen to the German inhabitants? Would France follow the lead of the Eastern European states and demand the transplantation of the dense German population of this area into an already diminished Reich, which, if the eastern frontiers as now drawn are accepted by the peace conference, will be deprived of a quarter of its arable land?

Eighty million Germans cannot be compressed into so small an uneconomic area without creating a cancer in the heart of Europe. A biblical truth happens to be so. We are "all members one of another," and this is supremely true of the European economies.

It is also doubtful whether either France or Poland can satisfactorily resettle the lands they claim from Germany, with the population removed. France is not over- but under-populated as it is. Yet, if she forcibly includes Germans in large numbers, she is looking for future trouble.

From the long view in which alone peace should be made, the acquisition by the French nation of this territory seems, therefore, unwise.

On the other hand, the great Rhine-Ruhr monopolies and cartels should not resume their former powerful role nor should this complex be the servant of a German state. We did not defeat Germany in order to restore her—or anyone else — as the military-economic master of Europe.

There is, however, a solution which might open the way to a more rational life for Europe altogether. That is something that I know was in President Roosevelt's mind, from an extended conversation that I had with him a year or so ago.

Being loyal to historic and ethnographic principles, leave the German population where it is. The forcible uprooting and mass transfer of human beings is a crime against humanity, which outraged our consciences when the Nazis committed it. If we condone it we shall eventually see bitter American —and British—revulsions, even, or even perhaps especially, among American soldiers.

Yet the Rhine-Ruhr can reasonably be internationalized, in that it can be Europeanized, as an economic complex. It should be, because it is, actually, essential to all Europe. Russia and China have no economic interest in it; neither do we; but all Europe west of the Oder does. (The east needs the Silesian industries and coal.)

The Rhine-Rhur mines and industries could be Europeanized by transferring ownership to a European consortium set up on co-operative principles, awarding to each European state a share commensurate with its purchases from this area. Fifty-one per cent. of ownership, at least, should go to the European states, not private persons, and it should be administered and controlled as a European public property. This would both Europeanize, and to whatever extent European opinion demands, socialize the Rhine-Rhur. It would remain in Germany, but be owned and controlled by and for Europe as a whole—and through it they would also control Germany.

There should be no restraints on the movement of workers in and out of the area. They should be employed according to demand, skill, and efficiency, not according to nationality.

The Europeanizing of the industrial heart of Germany and Europe might begin the Europeanizing of Europe. Unless that happens, western Europe is finished. Within a generation or two it will become the booty of one or another of the great powers, with or without war.

Twenty or more sovereign states, divided by ancient feuds and customs frontiers, and requiring passports to move over minuscule areas in modern times, can no more maintain themselves in the world that is forming than the succession states of the Austro-Hungarian empire could maintain themselves against a powerful Germany or Russia.

Atomized Europe will decline in poverty and offer a perpetual temptation to powerful aggressors, who are usually restrained only by calculations of risk.

Moving a European frontier here and there will not solve the European problem. Unless it is solved, this war will not have been won—and our hopes for a reasonable, realistic peace and world economic revival will be frustrated.

A Long, Bleak Winter

By BETH TOMALIN

LONDON: Bread will be the filler and fish the only bright spot on the food front in Britain this coming winter. This, very briefly, is the summing up of Dr. Edith Summerskill's remarks to a gathering of women of the Empire Press.

SHE UNDERSTANDS HOUSEWIVES' PROBLEMS

Dr. Summerskill, who is Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Food in Britain's Labor Government, speaks of the problems of the housewife as a double authority. She is no theoretician, being herself the mother of two children, and also a physician who has carried on the full practice of her profession until six weeks ago, even though she has been a Member of Parliament for many years.

She has herself had to evacuate her children, do without her husband's help throughout the war, and lost her home through bombing. She knows women's problems through and through and yet can relate them to problems of the world beyond any small feminism. She has both brains and beauty.

There are certain aspects of feeding Britain now that are different from the whole war period. Fish is the bright spot. It is becoming plentiful and queues for it are diminishing. It still remains a relatively expensive dish for the lower income group, but it is there, lying on the marble slabs of the fishmongers.

Certain kinds of native fruits at the moment are plentiful, particularly apples, pears and grapes. These won't last long. But there is a definite prospect of a rather larger supply of citrus fruits throughout the winter—one pound of oranges per head in London due this week—and there may even be some bananas which will probably be more gazed upon in small bunches than eaten by the handful. But even to see a banana is to know the world is righting itself somewhat.

British crops are quite good enough to make authorities optimistic, and finally the question of gifts of food from the Dominions is now being discussed and it is realized that decisions concerning these must be arrived at as soon as possible.

There are immense difficulties in making decisions as to the allocation of extra food. What is most desirable would be a slight increase in the general allocation but whatever decision is made it will be announced soon.

These are the brighter aspects of the outlook as outlined by Dr. Summerskill. The rest is—if not gloom —at least lean. I would like to insert here that the country which responds to Victor Collanz's "Save Europe Now" campaign, by agreeing in thousands to relinquish food points so that Europeans may eat a tiny bit more, could not be said to be sorry for itself.

The main points for this winter are as follows: Stocks of cereals such as rice, tapioca, sago, and such things as lentils, haricot beans and butter beans are all gone. They are no more. Even if they were always scarce they eked out shortages. It is not only that the stock has gone. It is also that the whole world must now be fed, whereas during the war it would have helped if certain sections had starved sooner, (these last, by the way, are my comments and not those of Dr. Summerskill). Next, the demand for bread is now so great that Dr. Summerskill believes that shortage of bread is a possibility. Dr. Summerskill is particularly worried about the fat and protein ration. After all no matter how much stuffing composed of carbohydrates you push into the human being he will get a hollow feeling in mid-afternoon unless it is well greased. Finally those who suffer most are rural families with no access to canteens, British restaurants or school feeding.

Mothers of these families must pack lunches every day for the whole family as well as provide a hot meal every day. The result is two meals of nothing but bread and margerine. The other class that suffers is the single man or woman, with or without a gas ring, in one room. Cooking for oneself properly is bore enough without having to devise cunning ways of nourishment with a square inch of cheese, butter and one chop per week.

NO SOAP SPELLS HOUSEHOLD DISASTER

This fat business is not confined to nourishment. It affects the soap situation and this is the only point where the ministry of food hasn't always honored its commitments. The floor must be left until the old man's shirts are dirtier and the children's clothes filthy, so that the floor can be scrubbed with the same soap used to wash the clothes. What happens to your own clothes doesn't matter (and what you do if you have a daily load of nappies, goodness only knows).

Are Members Underpaid?

From the Montreal Gazette

Off and on over a period of years the adequacy or otherwise of the sessional indemnities received by members of Parliament has been the subject of debate both in and out of parliamentary circles. In the past few years, this discussion, with particular complaint of the inadequacy of the indemnities, has been intensified by the effect of wartime taxation, which slices the $4,000 indemnity to a net of $2,800.

By all indications, the problem will be brought before Parliament at its present session and a move possibly will be made to implement a proposal which has already found much favor among the members—to exempt the indemnities from taxation. Such a plan has found support from the Prime Minister himself, who more than a year ago announced that he would back any step taken in Parliament to lift taxation from the payments to members.

No one will challenge the principle that members should be properly recompensed for their extra expenses in travelling to and living in Ottawa during sessions; for loss of professional and business income as a result of attending to their duties; and for the service they render to their constituencies and to the people of the country as a whole in their capacity as members. The question now is whether present indemnities after deduction of taxes are sufficient in many cases to meet these requirements, in a way consistent with parliamentary dignity and fair dealing for elected representatives.

But tax exemption of indemnities does not bear scrutiny as a proper and equitable solution for the problem. It is argued in favor of the plan that the payments to members are indemnities in the strict sense of the word, to offset or compensate for their expenses and loss of income. But that is only partly true. For the "indemnities" also serve—certainly in the popular mind—as salaries or stipends in recognition of services rendered.

The indemnities thus are at least in part as much subject to taxation as the salaries or other income of ordinary citizens. It would, however, be difficult to differentiate between the portion that should be taxable and the portion that should be exempt as, in effect refunding of expenses.

The only fair and honest solution would therefore seem to be to raise the gross amount of the salaries to a level ensuring that the dignity and financial position of members are maintained.

This is not to suggest an increase of indemnities to the proportions recently urged upon Congress by President Truman, who proposed that the $10,000 salaries of members be doubled. But there could hardly be any serious objection to raising Canadian indemnities by some moderate amount.

There is no sound ground for discriminating in regard to taxes between members of parliament and other citizens who earn income. Indeed, it is desirable to continue taxes on indemnities so as to provide a constant reminder to members of the load of taxation being carried on by the country as a whole. And when they are considering an increase in their own salaries, members might well study the problem of citizens generally who have had to bear heavy war taxation while their salaries and wages have been frozen by controls.

If M.P.'s find the going hard, let them remember that thousands of Canadians are in the same fix.

Keep After Them

Editor, Bulletin: According to press reports our worthy representatives at Ottawa are already asking that further action against draft dodgers be discontinued. We could learn a good lesson from the Americans. After hostilities cease they continue to follow the draft dodgers and secure convictions against them. Such convictions carry with them the loss of franchise, and the cowardly draft dodger is thus prevented forever from voting or holding office in the country he refused to defend in its hour of necessity. If a so-called man will not defend his country he should certainly never in his lifetime have a say in the affairs of the country, much less hold office. Keep after them, and make the punishment fit the crime. It may mean the loss of a few votes for the politicians, but it will mean justice for those who served and those who laid down their lives.

Constructive Ideas

Editor, Bulletin: There are now being discharged from the forces highly trained, competent, efficient men who do not know where to look for employment at which their talents and educational training can be utilized for the public good and at which they can make a decent living.

A Hydrographical survey of Lakes Athabasca and Great Slave are long overdue. Eight of these men from the Navy should be put at this job on each lake. They should be split into two parties of four each for each lake, and the work be commenced in the spring of 1946. The organizaton of this survey should be commenced at once. Given competent staffs these surveys be completed in two years. Great Bear Lake would come later.

There is also a crying need for a comprehensive and detailed ichthyological survey of these and other northern waters.

By this is meant a survey and research conducted by a real ichthyologist, not a biologist who knows a fish from a reptile, but an officer learned in the science of fishes.

This survey should take into account the natural supply of fish food and how it can be increased; the natural enemies of the food fishes and what fishes should be introduced in addition to those now there. The introduction of herring into Lake Athabasca for instance and above and beyond all, the introduction of sturgeon into the Mackenzie River watershed. These valuable fish (a good caviar sturgeon is worth as much as a cow) are easily cultivated.

This ichthyological survey should have an absolutely free hand and be permitted to use nets as fine in mesh as ordinary fly screen to take specimens. This is necessary in order that they may study the animalculae on which the infant fishes feed and also to study what bottom plants are now available in these waters on which these animalculae feed. There is a natural fertility in the water the same as there is in the soil. The sheep eats the grass, the man eats the mutton. The same applies to fish culture.

The Dead Past

Editor, Bulletin: I read with great interest the article by Captain Prowse about people whose ancestors came to Canada such a long time ago. One class of people I despise are the people that brag about battles that were fought centuries ago amongst the small nations in Europe. They like to boast where their ancestors won a battle, but they do not like to be told how a vanquished foe, some years after, repaid their enemies with a disastrous defeat. A very true saying, "The stings of defeat outlive the sweets of victory." I can look back with pleasure to the get-together parties so wisely sponsored by the Liberals at the Memorial hall and the applause I got for various national anthems. I say down with the bigots. Longfellow wrote, "Let the dead past bury its dead."

Income Tax

Editor, Bulletin: The income tax forms for 1944 show that a married man earning $1,500 a year pays $101 of income tax, or 33.67 per cent. of the taxable portion after deducting the $1,200 exempted. The man earning $3,000 a year pays $582 income tax, or 31.23 per cent of the taxable portion.

In a recent press release it shows that on an income of $4,939 the tax is only $805 or 21.53 per cent.

Would some of your readers who know please tell us how large the income must be to be entirely free of income tax?

Local Produce

BUTTER PRICES

No. 1, 35, No. 2, 33, No. 3, 31.

CREAM PRICES

Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries: Special grade, 42, No. 1, 40, No. 2, 38, off grade, 30.

All prices include government bonus of 10c to farmers.

EGG PRICES

Dealers now paying to country shippers. A large, 38; A medium, 34; A pullet, 22; grade B, 24; grade C, 18.

Wholesale to retail: A large, 43; medium, 41; A pullet, 29; B, 31; grade C, 24.

Retail to consumers: A large, 49; A medium, 47; A pullet, 35; grade B, 38; grade C, 30.

The Edmonton egg market shows indications of a firmer undertone on all grades as the result of improved positions of important eastern markets. The reduction in value of grade A pullets last week created a better domestic demand for this grade, and as a result a clearance of all surplus stocks is probable at a very early date. Receipts of eggs through all Alberta stations showed a further decrease of 9 per cent. from last week. Indications are that the low point of production will not be reached before the end of October. Quality showed a 6 per cent improvement over last week, being 64 per cent. A large, medium and pullet. This is attributable mostly to new pullet flocks coming into production.

POULTRY PRICES

Receipts of fowl through all Alberta stations showed an increase of 11.1 per cent. over last week and chicken 10.9 per cent. Marketings of other kinds of poultry definitely nominal. There was no carlot movement of poultry for export or interprovincial markets. Prices remain unchanged throughout, with the undertone somewhat cautious.

One carlot of fresh A large and A medium was exported to Great Britain, with four cars of regraded storage stocks shipped to the same destination. Four lots of current B's and A pullets were delivered to the dryer in addition to three carlots storage stocks re-directed for powder stock. Egg prices remain unchanged from last week-end and are as follows.

HERON AS BAIT

An expert at fish catching, the heron once was believed to attract the fish with its legs, and old angling books advised the use of marrow from the thighbone of a heron as bait.

Protest Membership Set-Up Commons Veterans' Committee

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Complaints that all members of Commons who are veterans of both wars were not named to the special committee on veterans affairs were voiced yesterday in the Commons as the motion establishing the committee was passed.

The committee as proposed by Veterans Minister Mackenzie consists of 60 members but there are 84 former servicemen in the house. Lt-Col. A. J. Brooks (PC-Royal) said he thought they should all be on the committee. Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) agreed and as alternative argued that the party division of the committee should follow the percentage of party representation in the house.

As the committee stands there are 32 Liberals, 16 Progressive Conservatives, seven CCF, three Social Credit and two Independents on it.

When Col. Brooks recalled a previous statement from Mr. Mackenzie that all former servicemen would be on the committee the minister said he didn't know there were so many.

"Perhaps the minister did not know there were so many on the opposition side," said Col. Brooks.

REVIEW LEGISLATION

The committee's job will be to review all veterans' legislation, including orders-in-council, and consolidate it into a veterans' charter. It is of the same type as committees of ex-servicemen which drafted all veterans' legislation between the First and Second Great Wars, and Mr. Mackenzie said these committees invariably functioned on a non-partisan basis.

The house spent the afternoon on arguments over procedure, questions and a few government resolutions. All the dinner hour members had not reached the "orders of the day" consideration of the war and demobilization appropriation resolution.

At the night session Air Minister Gibson outlined plans for Canada's post-war air force and heard criticism from some members that there was not enough reduction in RCAF expenditures.

The procedure snarl developed when Clarence Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South) tried to precipitate a debate on the Ford strike at Windsor by moving the adjournment of the house. Speaker Gaspard Fauteux ruled the question was not urgent and a long argument developed on whether there was an appeal from the Speaker's ruling. The argument petered out with no appeal being taken.

SPEED BUSINESS

Agriculture Minister Gardiner got the house to agree to speeding up preliminaries so that he could introduce the bill to accept the United Nations food and agriculture organization. Canada, host to the first conference of the organization at Quebec on Oct. 16, is one of the countries which have not yet officially agreed to it.

Mr. Gardiner also said he had been informed officially that it will be necessary to lower the British bacon ration from three to two ounces weekly unless larger supplies than now were in sight become available. Canada, therefore, had agreed to increase bacon shipments by 6,000 (long) tons in October and November.

Later, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced the federal government has decided to lift the 16-bushel per acre limitation on wheat deliveries for the present crop year. The action probably will mean an additional 15,000,000 bushels of wheat will be available for importing countries during the present crop year.

During discussion on the veterans' charter committee, Mr. Mackenzie, in reply to opposition suggestion that the committee should be enlarged from 60 to 84 to include all members in the house, said that large committees were unwieldy.

NOT BIG BARRIER

Mr. Knowles said the difference between 60 and 84 was not sufficiently great to bar 24 veterans from membership on the committee.

Mr. Mackenzie said there was no rule which stated that representation on committees had to be on the basis of party strength.

Mr. Knowles said he realized that, but felt that political considerations should be set aside in formulating a veterans' affairs committee.

Col. Brooks said all 84 veterans should be on the committee, or the work of the committee would suffer. He said the committee should go into such things as hospitalization, training, employment and appointments. He said politics should be kept out of government appointments and consideration should be given to veterans when any government post, high or low, became vacant.

West Pioneer, Mrs. J. D. Moodie Dead in South

CALGARY, Oct. 5.—(CP)—A career colored with the adventure of the early west ended yesterday in the death of Mrs. Geraldine Moodie, wife of Major John D. Moodie, pioneer member of the North West Mounted Police. Mrs. Moodie died at the home of her granddaughter, the Countess of Egmont, near Midnapore.

Born in Ottawa 92 years ago, she was the daughter of Col. Fitzgibbons, famous for his part in the battle of Queenton Heights, and Mrs. Fitzgibbons. One of the pioneer women of Alberta, who served with her husband through the frontier days of the west, Mrs. Moodie first came to Calgary in 1886 with Major Moodie, who was then an inspector with the NWMP.

Mrs. Moodie lived for some years at Maple Creek, Sask., during which time Major Moodie, together with a small party of police, were seeking an overland route to the Yukon. Later, when Major Moodie served in the South African War, Mrs. Moodie lived in Moosomin, Sask.

Upon returning from the South African War, Major Moodie was appointed a governor of the Hudson Bay. In 1906, Mrs. Moodie accompanied her husband aboard the ship "Arctic" to the Hudson's Bay where she lived two years.

Following Major Moodie's resignation from the police in 1914, he and Mrs. Moodie ranched for some time in the Cypress hills before moving to Maple Creek. They later moved to Duncan, B.C., where they resided with their daughter, Mrs. B. Simpkin. They returned to Calgary in June, 1944.

The couple celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary in June of this year.

"Vocal Minority" Protesting Ration

HAMILTON, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Byrne Hope Saunders, head of the consumers' branch of the Prices Board, yesterday told the Women's Canadian Club that the "protest need" of meat rationing was swamped under a flood of minority protests. "The voice of the willing consumer was overwhelmed by the vocal minority," she said.

Pearkes Asks Full Review Defence Plans

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, Progressive Conservative member for the British Columbia riding of Nanaimo, said last night he regretted that the government had not seen fit to present an over-all picture of Canada's peacetime armed forces.

Gen. Pearkes, winner of the Victoria Cross in the First Great War and former General Officer Commanding the Pacific Command, said the Progressive Conservative party had asked that the government outline an over-all plan for the peacetime forces.

He spoke after Air Minister Gibson had announced, while presenting the estimates of his department, that Canada's peacetime RCAF force will consist of between 15,000 and 20,000 men. Peacetime strength of the Canadian Army and Navy have not yet been announced.

Gen. Pearkes said it was impossible to review the effectiveness of the peacetime service without an over-all picture.

NAVAL-AIR STRENGTH

If Canada was to have a large force of planes that could range far out over the oceans in peacetime, then it would not be necessary to have a large force of surface naval craft. If Canada was to have a large number of surface craft the number of long range planes could be reduced.

Likewise, if there was to be a large number of naval bases these bases would need the protection of the army and the air force and the size of these forces would have to be judged accordingly.

Gen. Pearkes said there were reports that Canada's navy was to consist of at least two aircraft carriers, yet Col. Gibson's speech contained no reference to the supply of aircraft for such carriers.

The speech contained no mention of a fleet air arm.

"We cannot expect progress to be made unless we are presented with a well-thought co-ordinated plan," said Gen. Pearkes. "We cannot follow the procedure of 1919 or the time-worn-out formula of the last war."

TERRIBLE MISTAKE

If the defence departments have not worked out a joint plan of defence then a most terrible and fundamental mistake has been made," said Gen. Pearkes.

While Col. Gibson had mentioned that the permanent force would consist of between 15,000 and 20,000 men there were many young men in Canada who would appreciate more details about the interim force.

These men were concerned because the jobs they left to join up now were waiting for them. If they joined the interim force and were not accepted for a further term after two years' service they would not have any claim on their former peacetime job.

But the air minister also had made no mention of recruiting for the peacetime force. There had been no recruiting for the force during the past year. Unless young men were taken into the force there would eventually be a serious age gap.

NO EXTRAVAGANCE

Gen. Pearkes said he was not advocating extravagance or waste. Men in the interim force should be expected to do a full day's work and receive payment for such work.

Col Gibson had made no mention of a college to train men for the RCAF. Navy and Army colleges were scheduled to operate in peacetime.

Gen. Pearkes agreed that the Air Force should get rid of obsolete equipment and keep itself up to date.

He asked that Col. Gibson disclose where operational and training peacetime bases will be located. The bases should be located at "strategic" not "political" points.

He believed the people generally would be disappointed because the expenditures of the Air Force were not more drastically reduced. The estimates before the house were prepared prior to the end of the war in Europe and in Japan and yet the reduction from last year was only 44 per cent.

MANPOWER CUTBACK

The reduction in manpower was 54,000 men and yet there was not a corresponding decrease in the pay and allowances for the force.

Gen. Pearkes said he was glad to know a research division was to be maintained in the air force. There was a great need for experimentation not only in connection with the atomic bomb but with jet-propelled airplanes and radio-controlled aircraft.

"It may not be fantastic to suggest that the air forces of the future will be launched from subterranean fortresses and guided to their destination by remote control without a single airman being in the air," said Gen. Pearkes.

He hoped all members would discuss the problems of the services without political bias and with a full realization of the importance of maintaining peace.

If another war broke out it was quite possible "whole civilizations will be wiped out before the means of destruction can be themselves destroyed."

Altitude Record Is Set In States

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—(AP)— An official United States altitude record of more than nine miles was set by the bell jet-propelled P-59 Aircomet. Bell Aircraft Corporation disclosed yesterday with the permission of the Air Technical Service Command. A test pilot took the plane to 47,000 feet with full military load April, 1944.

Continue Allowance For British Brides

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The Canadian Army newspaper Maple Leaf said yesterday it had learned that the Dominion government had passed an order-in-council to provide for the continuance of dependents allowances to British brides of Canadian servicemen, even after their husbands have been discharged in Canada.

From now on, the paper said, in all cases where wives have made application for a trip to Canada but are still awaiting transportation, the allowance will automatically continue. It quoted officials of the wives bureau at Canadian Military Headquarters here as insisting, however, that even before the order was issued, there was no reason for wives to be suffering financially since all had been invited to apply for any necessary help.

Recently British newspapers asserted that one of the complaints of thousands of disgruntled brides waiting for passage to Canada was that many of them were "penniless" since their allowance ceased as soon as their husbands were discharged back home.

Flour Mill Head Dead at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Herbert Sellers, 70, western manager of Ogilvie Flour Mills Company since 1926, died in hospital here yesterday. Born in Toronto, he received his early education in Port Arthur. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. R. Johnson, Toronto; Mrs. K. E. Stockleback, Windsor, Ont., and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Edmonton, and a sister, Mrs. J. H. Fox of Vancouver.

Flying Record Broken in U.S.

BURBANK, Calif., Oct. 5.—(AP)—An east-to-west transcontinental speed flying record of seven hours, 53 minutes, was established Wednesday by a Lockheed C-69 Constellation transport plane. The old mark for the 2,353-mile course from Miami, Fla., to Burbank was 10 hours, 10 minutes.

Minister Answers Disposal Critics

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—A reply to critics of the RCAF's war surplus disposal policy was contained yesterday in a statement to the Commons by Air Minister Gibson.

"There appear to be some people," he said, "who have the impression that anything we no longer require we destroy and I should like, if possible, to disabuse their minds in this matter."

In a highly-technical force such as the air force it was inevitable that scientific skill constantly would produce new and improved equipment. As new developments appeared old models became obsolete and in wartime Canada couldn't afford to send its airmen into the air with anything but the most modern equipment available.

"As a result," he added, "much equipment becomes surplus to requirements—sometimes because it is obsolete, sometimes because it is worn out or damaged, and sometimes both, but in every case careful consideration is given as to the disposal of this equipment and disposal of it is made through War Assets Corporation. . . ."

"I should like to make it quite clear that there is nothing sinister in our methods of disposing of surplus equipment or supplies."

147 Candidates Seek Election In B.C. Ridings

VANCOUVER, Oct. 5.—(CP)—British Columbia's political battle—its first since 1941—entered the final round today with the completion yesterday of official nominations in the 41 constituencies.

Altogether 147 candidates were listed as nominated for the provincial general election Oct. 25 when electors will choose 48 members.

The fight for power is mainly between the coalition government headed by Premier John Hart and Attorney-General R. L. Maitland and the socialist CCF party. However, the Labor Progressive and Social Credit parties are making their first major bid for power in this province's history.

SEEK RE-ELECTION

The coalition government is seeking re-election on the merits of its administration since formation in 1941 and endorsation of huge post-war programs drawn up at the 1944 session.

The official nominations follow:

CCF	48
Coalition	47
Labor-Progressive	21
Social Credit	16
Independents	3
Socialist-Labor	3
Ind. Progressive Conservative	2
People's CCF	2
Labor	1
Independent Labor	1
Independent Liberal	1
Socialist	1
Democrat	1
Total	147

LAST STANDINGS

When the Legislature dissolved last August 31, the coalition government was made up of 18 Liberals and 11 Progressive Conservatives. The CCF official opposition had 16 and there was one Labor and one Independent Liberal. One seat was vacant.

Only one constituency is going uncontested by the Coalitionists. That is Prince Rupert, where T. D. Pattullo, former Liberal premier and member for the riding for the last 25 years, is seeking re-election—this time as an Independent.

Mr. Pattullo broke from the Liberal ranks in 1941 when he refused to join with the Conservatives in the formation of a coalition government after neither party obtained a majority in the Oct. 22 elections.

The CCF under the leadership of their young leader, Harold Winch, is contesting every constituency.

Both major parties, however, may suffer from split votes following opposition from dissident factions in four different ridings. In Saanich and Victoria constituencies Independent Progressive Conservative candidates will run against Coalition standard-bearers who were elected as Liberals in 1941. The CCF vote split will be in Nelson-Creston and Rossland-Trail, where the People's CCF candidates will oppose official CCF party nominees.

HIGH TOTAL

The total of 147 candidates now in the running was high considering there were 146 in the field in the 1941 election when the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposed each other.

Campaigning on the same platform is something new for the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives, who through B.C.'s political history have bitterly criticized each other's strategy.

Out of 13 women seeking election Oct. 25 five were members of the last legislature, two as Coalitionist and three as CCF members.

All cabinet ministers have been re-nominated—but as coalition candidates—and Norman Whitaker, speaker of the legislature, is running in Saanich as Coalition nominee. He was elected on a Liberal ticket in 1941.

Duke of Windsor Is Back in Britain

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(Reuters)—The Duke of Windsor landed today at Hendon airport on London's northern outskirts after a flight from Paris and drove to Marlborough House, resident of Queen Mary, his mother.

"I am glad to be back," said the Duke. "I am only here for a few days."

The Duke has not been in Britain since during the first year of the war. He came to London at that time while holding a war office staff appointment in Paris.

The Duke said in New York recently, before sailing for France with the Duchess of Windsor, that he had not seen his mother for nine years.

The Duchess of Windsor remained in Paris, but she is expected to come to London later.

Truman Orders Navy Take Over Striking Plants

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—President Truman last night ordered the navy to take over and operate the plants of 26 oil-producing and refining companies after attempts at arbitration of wage demands by the CIO oil workers' union had collapsed.

In a statement Mr. Truman said it was necessary to act to maintain adequate oil reserves "for the needs of our armed forces". He said some 90 refineries and related transportation and distribution facilities had been shut down.

The seizure order left the next move up to the union—as to whether officials would order their men back on the job. O. A. Knight, president, said he would call his executive committee into session to decide this point as soon as the order left the White House.

Before the Magistrate

For causing "wilful damage" to a teacup, a saucer, a platter and a telephone in an East End cafe, Peter Brule was fined $3 and ordered to pay damages to the complainant of $5.92, or spend 10 days in jail. For assaulting the cafe proprietor, he was fined $5 and costs or five days, the sentences to run concurrently. He appeared before Magistrate A. J. Millar, KC, in city police court Friday.

Henry B. Johnson was fined $10 and costs or 14 days for driving his truck with inadequate brakes. Police testified he was in collision with a taxicab Sept. 25.

Postpone Opening Vermilion School

Opening of the Vermilion school of agriculture has been postponed until Oct. 15, it was announced Friday by Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture.

He warned against students applying for registration when the school opens unless they have received definite approval of their applications.

Both the Olds and Vermilion schools have received their full quotas of applicants and there is a waiting list which will probably be carried over to next term.

Rehabilitation and returnishing of the Vermilion school following its use as a CWAC training centre since 1941, has been delayed.

The minister pointed out that the later opening date probably would be welcomed by many students who will now be able to help with the extremely late harvesting operations in many districts.

The Olds school of agriculture will open as scheduled on Oct. 16.

With respect to registration the department advises that only those whose applications have been definitely approved prior to school opening will be admitted. If, because of cancellations, any others can be accommodated after the opening day, the overflow of applications then will be considered in the order of date received, it was stated.

30 Nations Ratify Charter of 'Frisco

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, United States delegate to the United Nations world preparatory commission, announced today that 30 countries had ratified the organizations charter—one more than necessary to bring it into existence.

Stettinius, who made the announcement at an open meeting of the league's executive committee, said 31 countries already had deposited their ratifications in Washington and that the other countries had sent word that ratifications were on the way.

Meanwhile, an argument developed within the league's executive committee over the question of postponing the first formal assembly of the league until after Christmas.

But Mr. Stettinius stood firm for convening the league assembly early in December.

He said the world was waiting for the World Security Council, the social-economic council and the world court to start functioning.

The executive committee decided to wind up its session Oct. 18, and to fix Nov. 8 as the starting date for the 50-member preparatory conference, which will arrange for the assembly, probably in December.

Railways Say Rates on Coal "Basically" Low

OTTAWA, Oct. 5—(CP)—Canadian freight rates for coal are "basically low", the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways said in a brief submitted today to the Carroll royal commission on coal.

The two railways presented a joint brief in reply to criticism of coal freight rates made to the commission at previous hearings, particularly in Western Canada. A. K. Dysart of Montreal appeared for the CNR and K. D. M. Spence of Montreal for the CPR.

"Whenever general increases in Canadian rail rates have been established in the past advances in the rates on coal have been negligible in comparison with those made applicable to general merchandise and many other commodities," the brief said.

PLAN IMPOSSIBLE

A suggestion by Jesse Gouge of Calgary in a brief for the Domestic Coal Operators' Association of western Canada that special rates could be provided for coal moved in trainload lots from Alberta to Ontario was impossible because of operating conditions. No railroad in either Canada or the United States had ever operated a solid train on a commercial transcontinental basis.

A train starting at Drumheller, Alta., would have to be limited to 47 cars. It might be increased to 84 cars on the prairies but would have to be cut to 26 cars in the Lake Superior area, because of varied hauling conditions.

Replying to a suggestion of Hon N. S. Tanner, Alberta minister of lands and mines, made in a brief submitted at Edmonton, urging establishment of special freight rates for coal by statute, the railways said such action might create a dangerous precedent.

"SUBNORMAL RATE"

There would be nothing to prevent similar acts of parliament for lumber, cattle, ores and other commodities, resulting in a severe strain on the national treasury in providing compensation for the difference between the regular and special statutory rates.

The present rate of $8 a ton for movement of Alberta coal to Ontario was "a subnormal rate" established for the purpose of endeavoring to develop the movement of Alberta coal to Ontario.

Miners' Executive Will Meet Monday To Discuss Strike

CALGARY, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The executive board of District 18 of the United Mine Workers' of America will meet in Calgary Monday, Oct. 8, "to consider the situation arising out of meat rationing," John Stokaluk, vice-president, said last night.

He expects a representative from each of the nine sub-districts in Alberta and British Columbia.

All but a few of the 9,000 member miners in the two western provinces are now on strike, demanding extra meat rations. Their walkout, officially termed a "holiday," has completely stopped coal production, except for the few mechanically operated strip mines.

Hospital Ship Docking Oct. 10

MONTREAL, Oct.5—(CP)—M. E. Doke, passenger agent for Canadian National Railways, said here yesterday that the Canadian National Steamship Lady Nelson, now in service as a hospital ship in the north Atlantic, will arrive at Halifax, Oct. 10 with more than 450 wounded and sick Canadian soldiers. With the Hospital ship Letitia transferred to the Pacific, the Lady Nelson is the only ship in this service in the Atlantic.

Air Cadet Meet Now In Session Winnipeg City

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Policies that will guide the future operation of air cadet training in Canada now are being formulated by members of the Dominion executive, Air Cadet League of Canada, meeting here.

Sqdn. Ldr. A. W. Carter, MBE, DSC, of Vancouver, president of the league, said yesterday the three main reasons for extending the air training plan in peacetime are to provide citizenship training, to organize training of boys in aviation lore because Canada is at the crossroads of world airlines, and to do everything possible to maintain peace by teaching boys how to utilize the power in the great weapons of the air.

Members of the Dominion executive present for the conference included Col. D. A. Ross, Vancouver, vice-president of the league.

King May Carry Truman Message

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King now enroute to London, is believed carrying a personal message from President Truman to Prime Minister Attlee regarding the possibility of outlawing the military use of atomic power.

The President now is understood to be organizing an Anglo-American-Canadian conference to discuss this aim.

It is believed here Mr. Truman expects little difficulty in the three countries now holding the atomic secret coming to an agreement regarding its disposition. He is understood to be prepared to seek the advice of Messrs. King and Attlee regarding the best way in which other countries may be allowed to join in the humanitarian plan of ridding the world of the dangers of atomic attack.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

HOME in Edmonton after another 10-day business session in Calgary, John Ducey, umpire extraordinary, throws more light on the Western Canada Baseball Association, recently formed with a view to having a central organization which would control, and at the same time promote the game throughout the four western provinces.

John, not in the habit of delivering snap judgments in such matters, seems thoroughly convinced that Bill Hansen and the others responsible for the move have the right idea and that it is a genuine attempt to further the interests of baseball in the west.

Even the juniors are not to be overlooked, with a western playoff for them as well as for the seniors (somewhat after the fashion of hockey) one of the ultimate aims. Centres such as Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge (and even a Crow's Nest town) have been suggested as key points for various areas in the prairies.

EARLIER PLAYOFF DATES

IT is proposed that central winners should be determined by, say, August 15, in order to give plenty of time for provincial playdowns and even finals, prior to the usual mid-September bad weather.

Umpire schools in various centres also were not overlooked, with a view to uniformity and improved technique. Ducey has been invited to act as chief instructor.

John also took in the junior baseball playoffs in Calgary, where a five-team league operated. A four-club circuit already has been formed for next summer. He did not think the finalists measured up to Edmonton's. There were five pee-wee teams in Calgary this year, so it is quite obvious considerable baseball missionary work is being done down there by somebody.

WHAT, SO SOON SMITTY

RILEY MULLEN called another senior workout for the Arena last night and amongst newcomers were Stan Devieg, Johnny Dutchak and "Buster" Hoffman, all former Maple Leaf juniors. "Red" Ruan, ex-Cornwall defenceman with RCAF Flyers here last winter, and Love of the Portage la Prairie Terriers. Memorial Cup winners in '42, also were out.

Joe Brown, Ken Cox, Russ Kleiss, Walter Dutchak and even Ken McAuley, Neil Colville and Jack McGill took advantage of the opportunity.

A junior hockey meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday and on the action for the coming year will come in for a thorough discussion.

Maurice (Smitty) Smith (Winnipeg Free Press) said in his column Wednesday:

"Just back from a trip west, Lefty Wright, who keeps an observant eye on all things hockey, reports that Moose Jaw Canucks will have another strong junior team this winter. He says, however, that even in Moose Jaw they say the team to beat will be the one which comes out of Edmonton."

5 V.C. Winners Will Be Guests At Toronto Tilt

TORONTO, Oct. 5—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League attended by night arrangements have been completed for five Canadian Victoria Cross winners of this war to attend Toronto's opening game against Boston Bruins here Oct. 27 as guests of the league management.

The five V.C.'s who have accepted invitations to attend are Pte. Ernest (Smoky) Smith, New Westminster, B.C.; Lt.-Col. Paul Triquet, Cabano, Que.; Maj. J. K. Mahony, New Westminster, Lt.-Col. C. C. Merrill, Vancouver; and Maj. Fred Tillson, Toronto and Windsor, Ont.

Transportation and all other expenses will be paid by the Toronto club.

The Leaf management also announced that Walter (Babe) Pratt, the League's tallest defenceman who last year received the highest salary ever paid a Toronto rearguard, has signed a 1945-46 contract. Pratt, who accumulated 18 goals and 21 assists last season, delayed signing his 1944-45 contract until shortly before the season opened.

Need For More Rinks Stressed

The need for two additional city operated hockey rinks was expressed by Supervisor "Mickey" Meldrum last night at the regular meeting of the City Recreation Commission held in the Civic block.

With an increasing number of hockey teams playing on the only rinks now in use, it is felt that the demand is worthy of two more and it was moved at the meeting that this matter be dealt with at the executive meeting next week.

A delegation from the Edmonton Gun Club appeared before the meeting and requested assistance in obtaining grounds for a trap and skeet shooting range. They were assured of having this problem looked into in the near future.

It was also reported at the meeting that work on the area directly west of Kingsway Park would commence next week and will be graded for two more diamonds.

Rousing Scores At GERA Range

Keen enthusiasm was shown at the Greater Edmonton Rifle Association range last week and many fine scores were turned on the individual rating targets.

Hilda Ebbers, a new member of the club, proved her skill with a fine line score of 96, 97 and 99 on the D.M. target.

Club members are advised that entries for the Skitch trophy in the club matches will be received immediately and shooting in this event will begin Oct. 15. In addition to the trophy and crest awards, there will be second and consolation prizes.

Rating score posted during past week are as follows:

Sporting rifle: Riflemen crest and bar—H. Ramsey, 200. L. Larsen, 200. B. Stalsberg, 196.

Marksmen bar: V. Wyman, 200. Lockhart, 200.

Marksman bar: D. E. C. Campbell, 198; L. Lockhart, 194.

Centre of Reception

Trucks Proud of Victory, But Gives Greenberg Credit

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit, Oct. 5—(AP)—Towering Hank Greenberg, a one-man army, and Virgil (Fire) Trucks, a navy all by himself when it comes to baseball, were the centre of a conquering heroes' reception in Detroit Tigers' dressing room Thursday after they put the Bengals back in the world series.

Greenberg, whose three-run homer in the fifth inning sewed up the game for the Tigers, wrapped his long arms in fatherly fashion around the bovish-looking Trucks and gave him a big hug.

Photographers pleaded with Hank to give Trucks a kiss. Greenberg balked at the suggestion.

Greenberg, who returned to the club from the air force in midseason, got the ball to hit some 370 feet for his homer was a curve.

Trucks discharged from the navy only last Friday after 12 months on 18 islands in the southwest Pacific, was proud of his victory, but he gave credit for clinching it to Greenberg.

"HELPED EVERYTHING"

"Hank's home run really helped everything," he said.

Trucks pitching the Tigers in St. Louis last Friday, Trucks had played in only one game since returning to the United States July 4. That was a 10-inning set-up team in Oklahoma City Aug. 1. He said he had his usual control yesterday, but was forced to tire in the fifth and sixth, and that the ball seemed slippery in he eighth, when the Cubs got two runners on base, and the ninth, when he walked one batter.

Manager Steve O'Neill said: "I figure to throw left-hand pitching at the Cubs" in announcing southpaw Frank (Stubby) Overmire as his pitching choice today, "so we can take care of Nicholson and Cavarretta. Those are the guys we've got to stop."

The Cubs trooped to their dressing quarters with no sign of the "hustle" they displayed on the field.

GRIMM BREAKS STILLNESS

Manager Charlie Grimm broke the stillness with:

"Well, boys, tomorrow's another day just like yesterday."

Grimm then opened a discourse on Trucks' fire-ball tossing.

"Pretty good pitching; fast—very fast," he said with sincerity.

"And a good curve, don't overlook that."

"I didn't see anybody in our league as fast as Trucks today. Yep, it's the fastest stuff I've watched this year."

Hank Wyse, who served up the ball that Greenberg pickled to mess up the Cubs' chance of getting away to two straight decisions, said that fatal pitch "wasn't a good ball either."

"It wasn't even over," Wyse moaned. "It was a high, inside curve but I didn't intend to put it there. I wanted it low and outside where I had been getting to him."

"We'll use Claude Passeau tomorrow," said Grimm, getting to Chicago strategy. "Livingstone will catch him as he originally planned, against Detroit's left-handed pitching. Paul Gillespie twisted his knee swinging at Trucks' ninth-inning pitch and may not be ready to catch again his next turn. It's an old injury, but it isn't bad."

Calgary Tornadoes Trounce Blizzards

CALGARY, Oct. 5—(CP)—After being held scoreless for the first half, West End Tornadoes unleashed a powerful attack in the second half to smother North Hill Blizzards 24-1 and finish the Calgary junior football league schedule with an undefeated record.

The victory, won before more than 2,500 fans here last night, was the fourth straight for Tornadoes and left North Hill and East End Stampeders into a sudden death playoff for the right to meet West End in the city playoffs.

Rainiers-Seals Game Postponed

SEATTLE, Oct. 5—(AP)—The Seattle Rainiers and San Francisco Seals will try for a third time tonight to get their seven game series for the Pacific Coast league Baseball championship under way.

The doubleheader, which was to open the Governor's Cup series, had to be called off last night when it was discovered the Seals' trunks had missed connection in the bay city.

The first game originally was scheduled for Wednesday but had to be postponed until last night because the Seals could not get plane reservations and had to come north by train.

The revised schedule calls for games tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights. It will be impossible to play a Sunday afternoon game because Sick's Stadium has a previous booking.

Doran Nets Three Puck Exhibition

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 5—(CP)—St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League in preseason hockey last night staged an inter-squad exhibition hockey game in which the "St. Louis Flyers" defeated "Oakland Panthers" 8-6. A crowd of about 1,000 watched the game.

Basil (Red) Doran scored three counters for Flyers with Fred Hergott adding two, with Eddie (Red) Brown, Oscar Asbuchon and George Delicate making the other tallies.

Johnny Horeck and Ted Garvin netted two apiece for the "Panthers" with Dick Kawcinak and

More Regulars Join Chihawks Training Camp

REGINA, Oct. 5—(CP)—They're still arriving at the Chicago Black Hawks' training camp here, a situation which is bringing even broader smiles to the face of coach Johnny Gottselig of the National Hockey League club.

Newcomers reporting include Clint (Snuffy) Smith, high-scoring centre ice star; Don (Count) Grosso —who also looks after a centre ice spot; veteran Cully Dahlstrom, who is looked on as considerable of a backchecking and Johnny Marucci, chunky defenceman just out of the United States Coast Guard.

The boys are free-wheeling already and there appears to be little doubt but what will be in fine condition for the Hawks' opening NHL date in Boston, Oct. 24.

Rookies are being put to the test as the regulars start to fly. Coach Gottselig indicated the club has no contract troubles, either. All Hawk regulars have signed contracts for the big job, it appears, will be to get the boys on contracts for Doc Romnes' Kansas City Americans.

Among those on hand is Paul Thompson, former Hawk coach, who now is general manager of the Vancouver set-up. Brother Tiny Thompson was on the sidelines Wednesday. The one-time Boston Bruin netminder pitch a couple back, and was advised to leave the netminding to younger fellows.

Tynan Bill Welsh and winger Billy Mosienko, who were scheduled to reach Regina late Thursday, are about all who are required to complete the Black Hawk party.

Lawn Bowling

The season's activities of the Alberta Avenue Lawn Bowling Club will wind up on Monday with an open mixed triples competition, starting at 16 a.m. Entries should be phoned to Frank Arnold at 73455. Mixed competitions will also be held on Saturday at 2:15 o'clock and Sunday at 2 p.m.

Cubs Unable Do Anything With Trucks

By GALE TALBOT

DETROIT, Oct. 5—(AP)—Big Hank Greenberg crashed a towering home run into the left field stands with two teammates on base in the fifth inning of Thursday's second world series game to defeat Chicago Cubs, 4-1, and bring Detroit Tigers back smarting into the thick of the fight for the championship.

Hank's pay-off clout, the second such vital smash he has made in five days, pulled out a brilliant pitching victory for Virgil (Fire) Trucks, who just returned from the navy in time to hurl for the Tigers in the classic. The stocky righthander kept seven Chicago hits scattered in all but one inning and struck out four.

The score had just been tied at 1-1 in the fifth and Eddie Mayo and Roger Cramer were on base by virtue of a walk and a single when Greenberg picked out one of Hank (Hooks) Wyse's inside curves that he lifted and sent it into the lower deck of the left centerfield stands at about the 380-foot mark.

With that lead to work on, Trucks bore down furiously with his fast ball and sharp-breaking curve to limit the National League champions to a total in the last four innings, and they never had a chance of getting back into the ball game.

As a result of the Bengal's cleanup win triumph on fine pitching and heavy hitting in the clutches, the entire world series picture has changed abruptly. Where the greedy Cubs looked to be overpoweringly superior in their opening 9-0 victory Wednesday in which they knocked Hal Newhouser from the hill, the Tigers at least promised to make a stern battle out of it on the strength of yesterday's showing.

A paid attendance of 53,636 sitting in Briggs Stadium in cool but comfortable weather nearly raised the roof right off the stands when Greenberg connected with his game-winner. It was the big outfielder's fourth world series home run. He hit others in 1934, 1935, and 1940 series before he went into the army.

First hit for the Tigers after he returned to the lineup last July was a homer, and his last hit of the past season was a terrific belt over the baser loaded that defeated St. Louis Browns last Sunday and clinched the American League pennant for the Tigers.

His mighty clout Thursday that spoiled what so far that time had been a fine pitching performance by Wyse, the righthander who won 22 games for the Cubs in the regular season. Up to the big fifth he had limited the Tigers to a pair of scratch singles and looked as if he might breeze through to a shutout such as Hank Borowy registered in the first game.

The Cubs had given him a one-run lead to work on in the fourth frame. Phil Cavarretta opened the rally by lopping a short ball into right centre field in Bill Nicholson scored him with a single to centre.

Two were out when the Tigers started pounding their big fifth inning. Skeeter Webb, son-in-law of Manager Steve O'Neill of the Bengals, strengthened his family ties by lining a clean single into left field to start it. Mayo then worked Wyse for a walk, and Cramer pushed a lucky single into left to score Webb with the tieing counter and send Mayo around to third.

That was the setting when Greenberg, still limping slightly on an injured ankle, strode to the dish and answered the pleas of the yelling stands with his towering smash into the seats.

After that, Wyse and his successor, Paul Erickson, held the Tigers to a single of Skeeter on an infield roller, but it didn't matter the way Trucks was blazing his fastball across.

Not only did Greenberg break up the game, but he pulled Trucks out of what threatened to be a

Eight From Last Year

Maple Leaf Juniors Hold First Workout

Fourth of the city teams to get underway, Maple Leaf Athletic Club juniors held their first workout of the season at the Arena on Thursday night, with around 30 players taking part.

No coach having been appointed so far, Ken McCauley, New York Ranger goalie for the past two years and former Leaf, handled the boys on the ice. John Colville who had charge of the team last season and Ted Allard, who held the coaching position prior to joining the service some four years ago, also assisted.

Eight of last year's squad turned out for the initial practice, and all still being eligible, will give the Leafs a good start for the ensuing campaign.

Jack Manson, goalie and John Finley, defenceman are both back, but Len Heil, another rearguard who was out last night has slipped past the age limit.

The high-scoring Leaf line of Don Christain, Jimmy King and Mike Thomas will be intact again this season and Bud McPherson, another prolific goal producer who usually worked at left wing, may drop back into a defence slot this year.

Jack Kleiko and Moe Furman, two more forwards will again be available. Albert Horricks and Fred Krook, two juveniles who played one junior game will be looking for regular berths this year and Luke Pringle has returned.

Stan Patterson, Ray Barry, Harvey Dodds, Stan Johnson, Delbert Wagner, Fred Mason, are other juveniles moving on. Newcomer out last night included Bob Jackson, Clayton Crozier, Dennis McManus (Leaf juvenile goalie) and Harvey Kopinsky.

Letter to The Sports Editor

RE "WRESTLING" MATCHES

Sports Editor, The Bulletin: In your sports column of today's issue is notice of a "return" match between a Mr. Clark and a Mr. Wright.

It is claimed by Mr. Clark that unfair tactics were used in the match of Oct. 1st, by his opponent, and he seeks another match to show what he can do in that line.

While I applaud the "spunk" exhibited yet I point out firmly and plainly that such is not wrestling and should be prohibited.

Having followed wrestling, actively included, for over forty years, engaging upon hundreds of matches, and watching many hundreds more in various cities; from the days of the genuine wrestling of Hackenschmidt and "Stanley Biscuits,"—that is what we called him —through the period of Gotch, Stetcher, Lewis, etc. to the present day "ring," an interest is claimed to the "sport." It grieves me beyond measure to see the "gouging," "eye-rubbing," "toe and finger twisting," "post hanging," "rope holds," and other unfair and beastly tactics employed and condoned.

It was an effort of "control"—not fear nor caution—that kept me from entering the ring and demanding—as a citizen of Edmonton—that the "bout" be stopped and further exhibitions of like nature absolutely prohibited.

The future may bring something of this to effect, but, for the time and occasion I demand that the city officials take action to see that "ring linesmen" are appointed to stop unfair tactics, while the referee attends to the decision. Should the, "city" demur in this and procrastinate—then—?!!

Sportsfully yours,
F. J. SPEED.

Newark Trims Montreal 7-1 To Win International Title

MONTREAL, Oct. 5—(CP)—Newark Bears last night captured the Governor's Cup, defeating Montreal Royals 5-1 in the final game of a best-of-seven International League series. The Bears will represent the International League in the little world series against Louisville of the American Association.

Newark officials announced immediately the junior world series, a best four-of-seven-games struggle with the American Association champions, would open in Newark Saturday night. The second game will be played Sunday afternoon and the third Monday night. After a day of travelling the fourth, as well as the fifth, sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be played at Louisville.

One walk while striking out four in a masterly display. It was Hiller's second victory over the royals in the series, Jean Pierre Roy, who had turned the Bears twice before in this series, yielded all 10 of the Bears' hits in the eight and one-third innings he worked. He was a trifle wild, walking six men and continually behind the hitters.

Wright and Clarke Re-Match Monday

The rematch between Jim Wright and Dazzler Jim Clarke at the Empire theatre next Monday is creating a lot of interest on the boulevards. One fan writes to Promoter Tommy Tasker with the suggestion that he should assign three referees—one inside the ring and two outside, for this match.

Wright, in a long-distance conversation, says he doesn't care how many they put in there. "It's not the referees that do the wrestling, so let's put ten in the ring. All I

Junior Hockey Saturday

CITY Blues and Town Reds, two Canadian Athletic Club junior teams who turned in a playoff calibre game as the finale of the recent hockey school, will meet again at the Arena next Saturday night, commencing at 9 o'clock.

Reds won the test last Saturday by a score of 8-7 and the second, which is being staged chiefly because of popular demand, will give the City boys a chance to get back in addition to being an excellent conditioner for the entire Canadian squad.

All excepting four of the participants in the first session will return for the re-match Saturday, Harvey Boa temporarily out of the city, goalie Alex Cavelli, Len Howell and defenceman Jack Davies, who was injured, being the only absentees.

Taking Cavelli's place in the nets for the Town Reds will be Norman Kunnick, promising Canadian amateur.

Bill Gatzke and Les Stone will be on defence for the Town boys, while Cy Thomas, John Rypien and Eddie Thomas are starting line. Other Red forwards are Bob Fleming, Henry Krewetuk, Bill Highet, Louis Levesque and Fred Spencer.

Don Murray will be back in goal for the City Blues with Ron Mathews, Ken Anderson and Doug Johnson on defence. Doug Anderson will centre the Don Slater-Bill Johnson line, with Leo Lushini pivoting for Ray Spencer and Dick Sisson.

Calgary Accepted

Three Teams to Play-off For West Football Crown

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5—(CP)—The western Canada post-war football picture, following a wobbly start this year, has broadened in scope, and the latest word is that three teams will vie for the right to represent the west in the Grey Cup final.

Although appearing on the scene late, Calgary has tossed a pigskin challenge at Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Regina Roughriders, making it a three-cornered battle for western football laurels.

A. U. Chipman, president of the Winnipeg Football Club, advised Thursday that the Calgary offer had been accepted and a two-game mid-western playoff is being arranged between Calgary and Regina.

In Regina, N. J. (Piffles) Taylor, president of the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union said Roughriders had proposed that the winner of the Calgary-Regina series meet Bombers Nov. 11 and 12.

OBJECTION RAISED

However, an objection was raised that the weather would be unsuitable then. Mr. Taylor said, and he would have to confirm the matter of dates with Mr. Chipman.

The man responsible for Calgary's entry in the football setup is Dean Griffing, who has been associated with the pigskin pastime in the west for almost ten years.

Griffing came to Regina Roughriders from Kansas State College in 1935 and later played the dual role of coach and snapback. Two years ago he took over full promotion of the Roughriders and led them through a good season financially, although they were stopped by Winnipeg BCAF Bombers in the western final.

He played football in Toronto last season, and is back in the west this year. Griffing took the Calgary situation in hand a few weeks ago and it wasn't long before he had a couple of dozen players out for practices.

STANDOUT PLAYERS

He and Jerry Searight, veteran snapback, are coaching the squad which includes such players as Paul Rowe, Jimmy and Gobbo Gilkes, Bob Harrison, Benny Stack, Zeke Weaver, Jack Hobbs, Pat Cassidy, Larry Haynes, George Alexander and Jack Lawrence.

Enthusiasm has been running deep, both among the players and sideline quarterbacks and the Calgary entry promises to be a fighting team. While overloaded with backfield material there is a shortage of linemen and Griffing figures on converting some players to line duty.

MORE ABOUT CUBS

serious jam in the first inning with a fine fielding play. After Stan Hack had led off with an infield single toward third base, and been sacrificed to second, Peanuts Lowrey came through with a line single into left field. Greenberg fielding it on the run and made a perfect throw to the plate to nip Hack as he slid in.

After that, Trucks, who signed his Detroit contract only last Saturday, settled down to hurl great ball.

Truck's fastball which the Tigers declare is fully as fast as Bob Feller's on some days, was really smoking all afternoon, and he was cutting off the corners with a curve that snapped like a blacksnake whip. His brilliant performance actually did more to change the complexion of the series than Greenberg's big blow. With the Tigers back in contention, Trucks was certain to start another game, and the way he looked yesterday the Cubs will be a long time beating him.

Today's third tussle, the last before the two clubs hop to Chicago to continue the playoff, will see the Tigers' Frank (Stubby) Overmire, a lefthander, hurling against Claude Passeau, veteran righthander of the Cubs. From the manner in which the Cubs teed off on Newhouser, another southpaw, Wednesday, Overmire's prospects scarcely could be called promising.

Putting A Problem

McSpaden, Furgol Blast Par In First Round Tacoma Open

FIRCREST GOLF CLUB, Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 5—(AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., and Ed. Furgol of Detroit levelled Fircrest's roller coaster fairways, flattened its humped greens Thursday and carded 66's, four under par, to set the pace in the first round of the $10,500 Tacoma open golf tournament.

A fickle wind and drying greens upset most of the entrants. Three-putting was common and only an even dozen came in at par or better for the first 18 holes of the 72-hole, four-day event.

Trampling on the heels of the leaders were Sgt. Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Jack Gage of San Bernardino, Calif., with respective 67 and 68. Five players were grouped at 69 and three, including Byron Nelson of Toledo, were even par.

Putts that died at the rim or caught the edge and looped away had the aces muttering, among them Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who had 72's. Leading amateur for the opening circuit was Harry Givan of Seattle, who recovered from an outgoing 38 with a 33 for 71.

Pic. Bob Hamilton of Fort Lewis, Wash., 1944 PGA champion, carded a 69.

In with Nelson at 70 were Jimmy Hines and K. Laffoon, both of Chicago. Nelson and Hines had identical scores and 36-34. Laffoon turned it around for 34-36.

The northwest contingent had as much trouble with Fircrest as did the visitors, many of whom had never seen the layout until they arrived for the tournament this week.

Canada's contingent went astray with the rest. Ernie Brown of Vancouver had a 74, along with Harold West of Portland and Jimmy Thompson of New York. Usually steady Freddy Wood of Vancouver was off his game to wind up with 77.

Kerr Winds Up With 9 Over Par But Still Wins

TORONTO, Oct. 5—(CP)—After an under par start, Bill Kerr of Cedar Brae Golf Club slowed down considerably Thursday but managed to retain his lead and walked off with the Ross Trophy and $300 first prize money in the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship tournament on the Cedar Brae course, finishing with 288.

With a nine over par 79 on the last 18 in the 72-hole medal play, Kerr was well off his game and nowhere near the 68-69—137 of the first day. His first 18 Thursday saw him shoot two above par mark and then slip badly at the start of the last 18 to nearly lose the tournament to Jules Huot of Laval Sur Le Lac, Montreal, who finished with 291.

Huot went into the last round 11 strokes behind the Cedar Brae pro and by the time he reached the 17th tee was only one back of Kerr. There Huot's putter, which had been playing tricks on him all day, went awry and the Montreal Laval professional dropped two strokes to wind up three back of the winner.

Stan Horne of Montreal Islesmere was a close third with a 292 total and Jack Littler of Kingston was fourth with 293. Huot's second prize money was $200. Brice's $125 and Littler's $100. Other prize winners were Bob Burns, Weston, and Dick Borthwick, unattached, $62.50 each; Gord Brydson, Willie Lamb, Rudolph Huot and Lloyd Tucker, $25 each; Gord De Laat, Norm Hines and Redvers MacKenzie, $16.66 each.

Alfalfa is probably a Spanish version of the Arabian word alfacfacah, which means the best sort of fodder.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By ALLAN HARVEY

TORONTO, Oct. 5—(CP)—People who scoffed at the Hamilton story about the man chasing a carp down the highway in an automobile the could have caught the fish if he'd had a bent safety pin can turn to the society page today. They obviously don't appreciate "shaggy dog" stories.

The best in that category this week — there's no satisfaction —or-your-money-back guarantee —comes from Regina, where a friend of a friend of Ernie Phaneuf of the Leader Post, who has been shooting ducks ever since they ran out of buffalo on the prairie, tells one of an educated monkey.

As related to Scotty Melville of the Leader Post, a hunter came back from the navy with a monkey which had been the ship's mascot. The monk became fast friends with the hunter's pointer and soon became as adept at flushing Hungarian Partridges as any dog.

One day, after some particularly neat work by the monk, the hunter was surprised to note the animal—which signified a point by three paws on the ground, one up and tail straight out—squatting on a few tufts of grass in a clearing.

The hunter moved in and up rose a Hungarian. He shot and missed. Another came up and this time he nailed it. This went on until he had a score of six out of 10. Finally he walked over to where the Monk's tail protruded from the grass—and found him sitting on a rabbit hole.

"He had chased the whole darn covey down the hole, letting them out one at a time," said the hunter. He felt pretty good about it (the hunter, not the monk) until a friend who knew the monkey's habits put him wise—

"If you were a good shot the monkey would have let out two at a time. For amateurs he lets out only singles."

Salvage Activities To Be Concluded

Owing to the termination of hostilities the salvage division of the war service department will cease to exist after Oct. 31.

In order to enable committees to dispose of all accumulations under existing arrangements, the western salvage supervisor, 604 Time building, Winnipeg, will continue to issue shipping certificates until Oct. 15. After that date certificates will be issued until Oct. 31 on application to the salvage director, Ottawa, Ont.

Edward C. Fisher, organizer of national salvage for Alberta, desires to convey to all committees, the thanks and appreciation of the government of Canada, for the magnificant contribution to Canada's war effort made by all those who participated in the salvage campaign.

Mr. Fisher stated that since the inception of the salvage campaign in April, 1941, to the end of August, 1945, the committees collected, 701,000,000 pounds of waste material. This does not include 200,000 tons of scrap iron, purchased by the steel controller of Canada.

Mr. Fisher stated that as organizer and representative of the war service department of the federal government, it had been a real pleasure to have worked with hundreds of salvage committees, that made the success of the campaign possible.

Nearly every Canadian home has been identified with the salvage campaign of Canada since its inception in 1941. Therefore, contributing directly through the medium of the salvage division to the production of war materials for the armed forces of Canada, Great Britain and Allies.

Youths Offered Fine Opportunity For Service In Peace-Time Navy

RETURNS TO U.S.—Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, former personal adjutant to Hitler and German consul-general in San Francisco before the U.S. entered the war, will be held in the U.S. following his arrest in Tientsin, China. He may be called as a witness in the Nuremberg war guilt trials.

Lt.-Cmdr. W. C. L. Webster, commanding officer of HMCS "Nonsuch" announced today that Lt. J. C. Hewson, rehabilitation liaison officer, will also be in charge of recruiting for the Royal Canadian Navy at the local naval establishment. Lt. Hewson formerly served at HMCS "Nonsuch" as recruiting officer for the RCNVR.

Referring to the interest that is being shown in this community in joining Canada's permanent navy, Lt.-Cmdr Webster pointed out that young men between the ages of 17½ to 20 years may now enlist in the RCN for a period of five years. On completion of this term, they may then apply for a further period of the same duration.

ELIGIBLE FOR PENSION

Enlisting at this early age, navy personnel who complete a period of 20 years are not only eligible for pension in the prime of life, but during service in the navy have an opportunity to acquire a trade that will provide remunerative occupation in civilian life.

"Many lads see the advantages of choosing the RCN as a career," he said, "The pension received is a sound plan for investment of money, and for those who show initiative there is better opportunity for increased pay in the RCN than in a majority of civilian occupations of a similar nature."

Among other advantages stressed by Lt.-Cmdr Webster was the financial assistance available to navy men in times of distress under the benevolent fund, and, of course, the well-known fact that life in the navy affords an opportunity to travel.

MUST BE BRITISH

Recruits for the Royal Canadian Navy must be British subjects, medically fit, able to provide two character references and, if not 18 years of age, parents' consent.

Inquiries by mail should be sent to HMCS "Nonsuch", 9722 102 street, Edmonton. Appointments for interviews will be given during week day by phoning naval barracks—26188.

The Canadian government is offering a new deal to naval service men who are still in uniform, those who have been demobilized or honorably discharged.

It is designed to build up the Canadian navy for the transition period from war to peace, and to give men in the navy a short-term opportunity of deciding if they wish to make it a career.

Lt.-Cmdr. Webster, when queried on the local interest being shown by ex-navy personnel in the navy's newly-announced two-year term has reported that many inquiries are being made regarding this extended term of service, whereby they remain in the service, or rejoin if they had already been discharged.

CAN EXTEND SERVICE

"The department", he said, "has evolved a plan for allowing ratings and officers at present serving in the navy to extend their service to Sept. 30, 1947.

"Under the same conditions as those during the war, the men will be subject to active service rates of pay and allowances and pensions.

"Personnel that agree to remain in the service will continue to accumulate war service gratuities and all post-discharge benefits to March 31, 1946.

"After that," Lt.-Cmdr. Webster said, "service will continue at present rates of pay to September, 1947.

CAN RE-ENTER SERVICE

Pointing out that volunteers can be accepted for this two-year plan provided they have been honorably discharged or demobilized from the navy, he explained that men who got their discharge prior to this plan would have the chance to return to the service.

"Those with service who took their discharge may return under the same trade, rank pay and privileges," Lt.-Cmdr. Webster said.

"The idea is to give those who have considered the idea of eventually joining the permanent navy an opportunity to find out during a short term period if they wish to serve in the peace-time navy."

All on a volunteer basis, Lt.-Cmdr. Webster said that men who serve during the extended term will be given special consideration if they wish to join the RCN after two years are up.

Resolution Seeks Study Insurance

Study of the feasibility of a co-operative municipal insurance scheme for the urban municipalities of Alberta will be made if a resolution prepared by Ald. H. D. Ainlay for submission to the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities is approved. The convention is being held in Calgary later this month.

The bylaws committee of the city council Thursday decided to recommend to the parent body that the resolution as drafted by Ald. Ainlay be submitted to the convention.

The text of the resolution follows. Whereas the Edmonton city council has passed a motion requesting the federal convention of urban municipalities to study the question of a municipal insurance scheme;

Whereas this resolution has been before the above organization for nearly two years without any deciding action, and

Whereas it is generally recognized that municipal fire insurance rates are too high;

Therefore be it resolved that this urban municipal convention set up a committee to study and report on the feasibility of a co-operative municipal insurance scheme for the urban municipalities for the province of Alberta.

The ROAD AHEAD

by Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

DURING the war labor has been "frozen" to jobs in Canada. This has applied in particular to those who obtained deferments of their call-up for agricultural purposes. Deferments of this kind were necessary in order to insure that sufficient able-bodied men remained on farms to produce the food so urgently needed not only by the armed forces, but by the civilian populations in this and other of the Allied countries. But many of these agricultural deferments went to men who suddenly became interested in farming because to them it seemed a certain way of avoiding service in the armed forces.

I have no quarrel—with those farmers who stayed on their farms and did a splendid job—in fact, I offer them a vote of thanks for a job well done. I have nothing but admiration for those men, rejected by the armed forces for various reasons, who went onto farms to help produce food—there was no better way for them to serve.

But I would have to lapse into army vernacular to tell you what I think of those men whose interest in farming as a means of making a living dates from the time that call-ups were imminent.

"FREEZING" REVOKED

Just a few days ago Ottawa announced that the "freezing" order has been revoked and that employees may now change their jobs without first obtaining permission from the National Selective Service. This change in policy is necessary to permit the reconversion of industry. But I sincerely hope that it does not apply to those who have obtained agricultural deferments.

It would be most unfair if men

Arrest Driver After Truck Crashes Tram

Thomas C. Wilson, a member of the United States Army Air Forces stationed in Edmonton was arrested by city police late Thursday afternoon and charged with dangerous driving after the truck he was operating smashed into a street car, two other trucks and ended up in a badly damaged condition against the sidewalk along 97 street, police stated Friday.

No one was injured in the triple-collision although passengers in the street car were shaken up.

Street Railway Motorman Lorie Dayment told police he was operating his tram south on 97 street and had passed the 100 avenue corner when the army truck came along side at a fast rate of speed and suddenly cut into the path of the tram, smashing into the vestibule at the front of the car.

SECOND TRUCK HIT

The truck then crashed across the front of the street car and smashed into a second truck on the other side of the street, hurling that vehicle into a third truck parked against the east curb, police said.

All the vehicles were seriously damaged and traffic was tied up for some time. The blue and white street car line was tied up for half an hour as street railway officials and repairmen rushed to the scene.

In city police court Friday, Macfarlane A. J. Millar, KC, transferred Wilson to the jurisdiction of United States military authorities.

Rossdale Area Transportation Is Protested

Bitter complaints were registered Thursday by residents in the Rossdale district and those living along 97 avenue between 104 and 109 streets against the inadequate transportation facilities being supplied the territory by the Edmonton Street Railway System.

Spokesmen for the delegations appearing before city council's transportation committee, said the service was totally inadequate and that it was working a very severe hardship on high school children who, owing to the shortage of schools were being forced to travel long distances to attend schools where desk space was available.

It was contended that the 20-minute service now given should be stepped up, and one of the protesting group proposed that the one-way bus service be duplicated with a second bus running in the opposite direction round the present loop. The loop travelled along 97 avenue to 109 street, north on that street to Jasper avenue, then east to 100 avenue and south along McDougall hill to 97 avenue.

DRIVERS WON'T WAIT

Members of the delegation also complained that bus drivers did not wait to permit transferees at junction points to make connection with the bus, and also that they would not wait at intersections when they saw a person running to catch the bus. This complaint was qualified, however, by the statement that some of the bus drivers were very considerate and often waited while a prospective passenger sprinted a considerable distance to catch the bus.

Ald. James H. Ogilvie said he had received many complaints regarding street car and bus operators pulling away without waiting to see if passengers were transferring just as other vehicles of the transportation system reached a junction point. There should be a more rigid inspection of this, he stated.

Street Railway Superintendent Thomas Ferrier said that some of the operators were at fault in this matter, and that the vast majority of the operators were trying hard to give efficient service under trying conditions.

REVENUE LOW

Admitting that the present service in these districts was considerably below that enjoyed by residents there during the last 25 years, Mr. Ferrier said the territory was a very low revenue one, and that with the present service the annual loss was approximately $4,500. He said that the running of an additional bus on the route would nearly approximate the service given in former years but there would be a heavy deficit on the route.

The members of the committee referred the matter back to the city commissioners with instructions to report back to the committee on the cost of operating two buses, or other suggestions which would meet the requirements of the district and provide better transportation facilities.

Issues Warning On Cycle Lights

Sgt. Albert A. Woodwards, head of the city squad at police headquarters Friday warned Edmonton bicycle fans that his department is going to "crack down" on those cyclists who continue to operate their two-wheeled vehicles without benefit of proper lighting equipment.

Since the time change last week-end, a number of cyclists have been observed and reported operating their machines after dark without lights.

An accident in which a 16-year-old boy was thrown from his bicycle under the wheels of an automobile Thursday was cited as an example of the hazards which threaten the unilluminated bike-straddler.

Divorce Decrees

Three decrees nisi of divorce were granted in Supreme Court Friday by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor. The decrees were granted to Isaac D. Salloum from Velva St. Salloum; William J. Amey from Eva Amey; Thomas J. Barrey from Josephine A. Barrey.

To Recommend Civic Purchase 22 New Buses

Purchase of a fleet of twenty-two 45-passenger trolley coaches from the Canada Car and Foundry Co., Fort William, will be recommended by the city commissioners at a meeting of the city council's transportation committee to be held Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The buses will be used on the proposed South Side trolley bus loop and will cost $341,000 complete, less sales and Federal Excise taxes, it is understood. Under the terms of the tender submitted by the company delivery of the buses will be made by Dec. 31, 1946.

TWO TENDER

In their report to the transportation committee, the commissioners state that two tenders were received for the supplying of the buses, both from Canadian companies. In recommending acceptance of the tender of the Canada Car and Foundry Co., the commissioners point out that they communicated with six manufacturing companies but only two were in a position to submit quotations.

DUTY HANDICAP

All United States companies, it is stated, were up against a severe handicap on account of import duty, and no quotations were received from them.

The two tenders submitted were: Canada Car and Foundry Co., $15,500 for each coach, plus sales tax, FOB Fort William; Motor Coach Industries, $19,860 for each coach plus sales tax, FOB Winnipeg.

The Canada Car and Foundry Co. price is considered very favorable.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

Some of the habits a mother has indulged in her child may have to be undone, with much distress, now that the husband is coming home from the war.

One of these is that most unnecessary habit of letting the child sleep in the mother's bed. The excuse for this is always quite reasonable. The baby cried, there were older relatives who couldn't be disturbed, there was a landlord who would not have a baby in the house who cried and so the baby was soothed and quieted in the mother's bed and outgrew the desire to go to sleep alone in his crib.

The warning should be obvious that the way to avoid such a situation is to soothe the baby, but after soothing to put him back in his own bed. Children accept our implication that their own bed is the only place for them to sleep while they very quickly take advantage of it when mothers, by their actions, show them that there are other places they may sleep if they are insistent enough.

Since the habit of being taken in the mother's bed has been established, it will have to be loosened gradually. She has to re-educate him toward an acceptance of his own bed.

Perhaps the easiest way to do this is to move the crib right next to the mother's bed. Then when the baby wakens he can be soothed, his hand held, be talked to pleasantly and made to feel comfortable and close to the mother until he falls asleep again—but without being moved.

If the child is old enough he should be told stories about how little boys and girls go to bed. She may put it in his mind that he has obligation to lie quietly so that Dolly or Bunny or Teddy may go to sleep, too.

Meanwhile, no discussion of this sort is complete without a reminder that the well-fed child does not waken every night. Something cries out for alteration. It may be the diet: the need of weaning; the need for a change of afternoon nap hours, which may be too long; the addition of vitamin D; so many things which must be taken into consideration when the child seems unable to enjoy a good night's sleep without attention of some kind.

Our leaflet, "Sleeping Habits," may be had by [illegible] request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

THESE WOMEN—"When I said I'd serve breakfast at eight, I meant EIGHT!"

McCoy Health Service

As we journey through life we are daily beset with new problems and conditions which must be solved. Sometimes the problems are as interesting to us as games, but at other times, when we cannot master the situations that confront us, we are puzzled. If we have a sufficient amount at stake and are undecided about the outcome, there is a tendency to worry. In such a case worrying consists of the mind dwelling upon the possible outcome that might be harmful to ourselves or those we cherish. The tendency to worry is believed by many to be a useless procedure, yet psychologists believe that it is based upon a protective mental function. It aims at discovering the logical outcome of injudicious actions so that they may be avoided.

People who have acquired the habit of worrying will worry regardless of conditions. Though everything is turning out as well as could be desired, they will invent reasons for worry and, if these prove groundless, will seek other [illegible]. Some people find a genuine enjoyment in worrying because of the relief that comes when their worries prove unnecessary. The mother will worry [illegible] the child getting run over on his way home from school; the business man may worry about having left the safe unlocked. Such worry is really useless procedure for if those who worry really believe that danger exists they would take steps to prevent it. One who has acquired the habit of worrying is usually of a self-pitying nature and believes that his troubles are worse than those of other people. He may believe that fate is, for some unaccountable reason, dogging his footsteps with misfortune.

Worrying really becomes a sort of day dreaming and the principal objection to it is that it occupies the time and attention that could be [illegible] used for constructive and physical activity. In addition to this [illegible] worry also has a definite toxic effect in the body. In [illegible] far in the future we may see apparently un[illegible] mountains and crevasses [illegible] problems and darkness, yet when we tackle each problem as it comes along it is not [illegible] as difficult as it seemed.

Those who have formed the habit of worrying should take a careful [illegible] of themselves. A little [illegible] generally make the mind more comfortable and bring a more refreshing outlook on life. Sometimes a lack of [illegible] and mental occupation brings forth the reaction of worry, for the mind does not like to be idle [illegible]. If the mind is not occupied with constructive thinking, worry and fear fade into one [illegible]. Worry is a mental reaction [illegible] to create excitement in a mind that is not otherwise occupied. When mental action takes the place of dreams, worrying ceases to worry.

The [illegible] problems that occupy [illegible] are financial [illegible]. The first worry will usually be avoided if one learns to live within his income, no matter how small it may be. The second may be largely avoided if one keeps in mind that it takes two to make a [illegible] and that each member of the family is an individual, and that it is not always wise to try to reform others. Little concessions to one another make family life more pleasant, and it doesn't cost anything.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The [illegible] Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

which declarer allowed to ride to the seven-spot. East very wisely did not put up his queen. At this point if the declarer had attempted to discard a losing heart on the king of spades, he would have lost the contract. He made the correct play of a heart from dummy, won with the ace, ruffed a heart in dummy, ruffed a small spade in his own hand, ruffed another heart, and then ruffed the king of spades. This allowed him to ruff the third heart and establish the ten-spot. He cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a small diamond with the ten of trumps, laid down the ace of clubs and picked up the queen. The jack of trumps and ten of hearts won the last two tricks.

Child-Nuptials Unstable Bring Scandal, Misery

Youthful Unions Complicate Ethics; If Census of War Brides Were Taken, It Would Show That Majority of Girls Are in Their Teens

If a census of war brides were taken, it would show that the great majority of them are girls in their teens, and that their bridegrooms are boys but little older. And this epidemic of child-marriages has brought about complicated ethical situations that are full of scandal and misery, and raised practical problems that are due to bring on still further troubles.

For what has happened was bound to happen. So many of the boys and girls who got engaged, or who married, recovered from their attack of war hysteria as soon as the ones they had sworn to be true to and to wait for, were out of sight, and they reverted to type. They were young. They were susceptible. They were sentimental and romantic. They had to have a playfellow of the opposite sex and, like the maidens in the old Gilbert and Sullivan opera, their theme song was: "I must love somebody and it might as well be you."

ITCHY DANCING FEET

It was asking too much of humanity to expect a bobby-soxer to spend her evenings at home knitting sweaters or writing letters to her boy friend overseas, when her feet were aching to dance, and good-looking chaps were begging for dates. Nor could one expect a lad at the girl-crazy time of life to turn his head and look away when a cutie passed him by, instead of whistling her down.

And so the inevitable boy meets girl situation arises. Absence still gets in its deadly work. Vows of devotion continue to be as brittle as pie crust. Men still kiss the lips that are nearest, and girls turn a listening ear to love-making. And nobody plans it or intends it before hand. It just happens that way.

There isn't a day that my mail isn't weighted down with letters from girls asking whether it is better to write their boy friends that they have learned to love another, or wait until they come home on their furlough to tell them, and from wives who desire a recipe for some painless way of informing their husbands that they have found other men nearer to their hearts' desire. And equally as many letters come from boys who want to know the quickest and easiest way of getting divorces.

LOVE GAME

But you can't play the love game without somebody losing out. So we have the lad at the front, weary and worn and homesick, who gets a letter that wounds him deeper than any sniper's bullet could, from a fickle girl who tells him that she no longer loves him. And perhaps this letter is crossed in the mail by a letter from a soldier to a girl, who has waited faithfully and patiently for him to come back, in which he tells her that he has found another.

And so it gives us the faithless fiancees who return their engagement rings before they are ever paid for. And in flirtatious wives who furnish food for gossip. And the betrayed husbands. And most pitiful of all, and the greatest problem of all, are the thousands upon thousands of babies that are the result of these adolescent romances. And what we are to do about it, no one knows.

Settling the peace question will be no harder job and call for no more diplomacy than straightening out the mess that war has made of marriage.

Minute Make-Ups

Safe, slow—but sure, must be your strategy when it comes to callouses! Never poke or prod with steel instruments. Check up on your shoes. Long enough? Wide enough? Here's an easy and effective "treatment". Dip a wad of cotton in cuticle remover. Place this over the callous. Let it remain for several minutes. Now for a one minute hot foot bath. Then gently rub away the loosened callous surface with a turkish towel!

Debunker

Music experts say that modern methods of making violins are probably better than even the best methods employed by the "old masters." Stradivarius violins are valuable, and many are superior to modern ones, but some are inferior. It is said that Stradivarius had a secret varnish which he used but this has no doubt been overemphasized, and the tone of his violins now is due considerably to the aging of the wood. It is believed that our best modern violins will be better than the Stradivarius violins when they are equally aged. We'll have to wait and see!

Red Cross Superfluity Shop Raises $26,141 in Five Years

Last week marked the fifth anniversary and closing of the Red Cross Superfluity shop, which has been run for the past five years, free of expense, through the generosity of C. R. Frost, who furnished the place, half of his shop on 102 Street, the Edmonton newspapers, who published the news items, and the Red Cross radio lady, Mrs. G. H. Conquest, OBE, who was untiring in her efforts to make the needs of the shop known. Mrs. O. F. Strong, one of the committee for the shop for many years, told The Edmonton Bulletin reported in an interview Thursday.

RAISE $26,141

The total receipts of $26,141.84 have been disbursed through the following channels: Red Cross fund, 1941, $1,000; mobile kitchen sent to England, $3,100; Navy Mothers' Club, $500; Russian relief, $200; Greek relief, $200; Merchant Marine, $500; Not-Forgotten Fund, $10; Red Cross 1942 campaign, $2,500; Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital, $500; Red Cross survivors' packs, $500; Red Cross 1943 campaign, $1,800; Red Cross prisoner-of-war fund, $900; Red Cross Army, Navy and Wings club, $300; Red Cross Chinese war relief, $500; Red Cross blood clinic, $2,000; Red Cross campaign 1944, $1,200; Red Cross prisoner-of-war fund, $1,400; Red Cross blood clinic, $2,000; Red Cross campaign fund, 1945, $1,500; Red Cross prisoner-of-war fund, $1,000.

The balance of $3,823.84 is to be used for an ambulance for the Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital and equipment in hospitals for returned men, these items now being on order.

MANY DONATIONS

This work was made possible through the help of many city and country people with their donations, tiny and great, varying in size from bits of silver to tea sets, pieces of cut glass, bits of china to sets of dishes, jewelry old and modern, pictures large and small, books of every kind, toys, dolls, linen, embroidery, lace, brass, copper, musical instruments, games and so on, many of the donations interesting relics of bygone days.

It would be impossible to say who had made the greatest sacrifice towards this great success or who had made the greatest contribution whether it was the middle-aged gentleman who gave a diamond ring, long a valuable possession; the mothers who, in their grief over the loss of a son, contributed some cherished piece to aid the Red Cross; the country women who had never seen the shop but walked miles to send in their gifts; the women who knitted or cooked for days for the shop's needs; the quiet little women who would slip in on some cooking-sale days to leave a donation from prized rations, or those who gathered fruits to make jellies and jams, or the late talented women who spent hours mending china.

ALL RESPOND

Again there were the organizations and individuals who always responded so generously to the calls for special sales, home cooking, babies' and small children's clothes sales twice a year and the Christmas sales of dolls old and new dressed with loving care; toys mended and painted to look like new; hand-painted window decorations to suit the sale; or the faithful women, who drove their cars collecting donations, who gave from a half day to two or three a week, winter and summer, or Mr. Frost's staff who would make a sale if customers came too early, or check over the books with meticulous care after the day's work was done, or last, but not least, the women who managed the shop, carrying the responsibility and planning all the details.

Mrs. Robert E. McLaughlin held the position of manager for more than four years and Mrs. Norman Fraser, also an original member, took over for the past year and a-half.

STARTS IN 1940

Early in the year 1940, following a suggestion that a shop, such as the Red Cross shop in Victoria, be started here, a small group of women headed by Mrs. McLaughlin, became actively interested in the idea and their first effort was a tea and small sale of things they had collected at Mrs. McLaughlin's home. This was followed by weekly teas on Saturday afternoons, held at the same place throughout the winter and spring and by summer it was decided to take a booth at the exhibition. This venture met with such success and made it possible two months later, by Mr. Frost offering half of his shop as his contribution to the work for the duration of the war, to open a shop on Sept. 20, 1940.

The membership of the committee of the 10 or 12 women who have served throughout the shop's activities, some for the full five years, others for shorter terms as circumstances permitted, are very anxious to express their interest thanks to everyone who has contributed in any way to this work, Mrs. Strong said.

PUT ON YOUR OLD KHAKI BONNET—Who would recognize in these stylish chapeaux the uniform cap of the Canadian Women's Army Corps? CWAC volunteers themselves actually did not, when the renovated headgear was modelled for them at a recent fashion showing in their Ottawa barracks. Left: Miss May Birchall has a "you-wouldn't-believe-it-would-you?" glint in her eye, as she shows what can be done with a CWAC winter cap by removing the peak, turning the cap back to front and fastening the earflaps behind in a neat Dutch style bonnet for civilian wear. The cap was dyed hunters green. Right: Miss Betty Hooke, Ottawa, models a CWAC summer cap that she dressed up herself with a good dye and a couple of yards of pretty ribbon. What ex-army girl wouldn't look just as pleased, wearing a tricky little pillbox like this, when she strolls down civvy street.

Editor of the Alaska Highway News, weekly newspaper in Fort St. John, B.C., Mrs. George Matheson Murray will add to her many activities that of being Social Credit candidate in the Peace River riding in British Columbia. She was an Edmonton visitor on Thursday, guest at the Macdonald hotel.

Prices Board Can't Control Real Estate

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The prices board has found it impossible to find a practical administrative method for regulation of sale of real estate, Donald Gordon, chairman, said here yesterday in an interview.

He said the board on many occasions had considered a recommendation to the government on regulation of sale to control the capital cost of real property but could not find an efficient administrative method.

"It is most difficult to determine a proper yardstick for a fair price," he said.

Another consideration was that control of real estate sale would inevitably mean control of all sales of capital, including stocks and bonds. The market price of real estate reflects a long term opinion as to what property will be worth in future, the same as prices of stocks and bonds reflect their value in time to come.

Mr. Gordon said such type of evaluation is beyond the scope of the board whose concern is the control of prices by the use of a yardstick on former prices.

Miners Demand Donald Gordon Quit WPTB Post

By The Canadian Press

While a group of almost 9,000 striking coal miners in Western Canada are urging the removal from office of Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman, the executive of District No. 18 of the United Mine Workers of America, AFL, has called a meeting in Calgary for Monday, Oct. 8, to "consider the situation arising out of meat rationing."

A resolution calling the rationing chief a "dictator" and urging his removal was passed at a mass meeting of men from four collieries in the Lethbridge area. Copies of the resolution were sent to J. L. Ilsley, John Blackmore, Social Credit member of parliament for Lethbridge. An altered version of the resolution was sent to Mr Gordon.

RESENT REMARKS

It said the miners also stood opposed to "the stupid and sarcastic remarks" he made to the press.

John Sivakuk, vice-president of UMWA District No. 18, said he expected a representative from each of the nine subdistricts in Alberta and British Columbia to attend the meeting next Monday night.

Meanwhile the strike, which started a week ago in southern Alberta and spread quickly to British Columbia and the remainder of Alberta is causing a shortage of coal that may have ill-effects this winter.

Already most parts of western Canada are rationing deliveries to one ton a customer. Edmonton is hardest hit where dealers said they had little hope of even delivering part of a ton to their regular consumers.

GORDON RESOLUTION PASSES UNANIMOUSLY

LETHBRIDGE, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Removal of Donald Gordon as chairman of the Prices Board was urged in a resolution adopted by a mass meeting of Lethbridge district coal miners Wednesday night. The resolution, which described Mr. Gordon as "a dictator" also reiterated previously-announced intention of the men to stand by their demands for "an adequate supply of meat."

Glen Pirnek, secretary of the Lethbridge sub-district of the union, said the resolution was passed unanimously.

AWAIT REPLY

In the preamble to the resolution, the miners said they had not received a satisfactory reply to a telegram sent early last week to the federal government when "holiday action" was threatened.

They added that mineworkers of this sub-district realize the necessity of providing Britain and European countries with greater meat supplies "and agree that the rationing of Canadians should be essential for such a purpose."

[illegible] that the present [illegible] is unfair, inadequate [illegible] the regular consumer [illegible] is now employed in heavy and [illegible]

"DICTATOR GORDON"

"Therefore be it resolved that we state the present unsatisfactory meat rationing system, and that we immediately appeal to the proper authorities for the removal of dictator Donald Gordon."

This resolution was sent to acting Prime Minister J. L. Ilsley. It was also sent to John Blackmore, Social Credit member of parliament for Lethbridge, with the request he support the miners demands.

In sending the resolution to Mr. Gordon, the miners changed the last paragraph to read: "Therefore, be it resolved that we stand 100 per cent. opposed to such a stupid system of rationing and furthermore, the stupid and sarcastic remarks made by you to the press.

"And, furthermore, as we also [illegible] in what we think is a democratic country, that neither we as citizens of Canada have the right to demand and express our opinions."

Train Carrying 'Loyals' Wrecks Speeder on Trip

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Oct. 5—Adding excitement to the tiring trip home, the special train carrying The Loyal Edmonton Regiment was delayed for almost an hour Thursday afternoon when it crashed into a speeder shortly after 5 p.m. west of Capreol.

Coming around a sharp bend in the tracks the six men riding on the speeder saw the big 6100-type locomotive bearing down on them, without waiting to stop the men jumped clear.

The speeder was demolished and some damage was caused to the locomotive but nobody was hurt. Crew of the train repaired the damage to the locomotive, cleared the damaged speeder off the tracks, and the train continued on its way.

Says Canadians Are Too Well Off

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Oct. 5—(CP)—Dr. James S. Thomson, president of the University of Saskatchewan last night asked that "God forgive us for being so callous even to discuss meat rationing in the face of Europe's need for food.

In an address to a teachers' convention banquet he said he did not refer to Germany when he spoke of the need for food, but "If the people of Britain were here tonight partaking of the food we have just eaten, they would think they were in another world.

He said that Canadians are too comfortably placed, too self-satisfied and too complacent for their own good and for the good of the world.

Speaking on "international co-operation" Dr. Thomson suggested that the recent failure of the meeting of foreign ministers in London was a hopeful sign rather than the contrary.

4-Year-Old Child Hurt in Collision

Patsy Pollock, four-year-old daughter of John Pollock, 9330 98 street, suffered a slight head injury when her father's automobile, in which she was riding with a sister Vivian, and Mr. Pollock, was in collision with another car early Thursday evening.

The driver of the other car, Michael Bielecki, has been charged by police with failing to stop at the scene of the accident.

Pollock told police he was driving north on 95 street with his children, and had passed the intersection of 109 avenue when the other automobile approached from the opposite and collided with the left front of the Pollock car, causing considerable damage. The other car then continued south, Pollock said.

Bielecki was arrested at 103 avenue and 95 street, where he was found changing a tire on his car, police said.

In city police court Friday, Bielecki, pleading guilty to dangerous driving and failing to stop at the scene of the accident, was fined $75 and costs or three months on the first charge and $25 and costs or 30 days on the second, the sentences to run concurrently. In addition his driving license was ordered suspended for six months.

FIELD COMPANY RECEIVES ROYAL WELCOME—Relatives and close friends were permitted to meet members of the 33rd Field Company, RCE, as they stepped from the train at the CNR depot Thursday morning. Touching scenes of families reunited after long years of separation were on every hand as the boys filed off the coaches as shown in the upper picture. Those meeting the veterans constituted only a small percentage of the thousands of enthusiastic admirers awaiting the chance to lend their voice to the tumult of welcome which was raised within and beyond the concourse of the station. The lower picture shows the "route march" for which many of the engineers had waited for more than five years. Headed by the Mewata District Depot band, Calgary, the returned heroes are seen above as they left the CNR station and were about to turn onto 101 street to parade through city streets ending up at the Market Square where brief addresses were given by His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, Premier Ernest Manning, and Mayor John W. Fry.

U.S. Government Moves to End Labor Troubles

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The government spearheading conciliation efforts to halt the country's spreading work stoppages, took control today of strike-bound properties of 26 oil companies in 15 states and moved to end serious labor disputes in the coal industry by calling a conference between operators and John L. Lewis.

The labor picture was extremely gloomy. Spreading walkouts in eastern coal fields and in other industries pushed the number on picket lines above 530,000. The stoppages in coal pits in six states combined around 147 with about 450 mines closed.

STRIKE SCHEDULED

A disruption of telephone service across the United States for four hours today—a two-day USL—was considered as 250,000 Independent Local Telephone employees scheduled a strike vote demonstration of disappointment although will be left on to handle the world series radio reports.

Shipping, idled by strikes of seamen, 35,000 and 60,000 workers in part of New York crippled shipping, halted movement of 166 ships.

Lumber: 61,000 AFL members in Pacific Northwest continued strike; 40,000 CIO members remained on job during conciliation conferences.

Automotive: Some 80,000 workers, most of them on picket lines in Detroit, remained away from their jobs.

Transportation: [illegible] AFL, bus drivers and electric employees tied up Pardee Greyhound Lines in seven western states, [illegible] 147,000 passengers daily by stoppage.

Biggest Problem

Troops Must Learn to Use Cash Instead of Cigarettes

By Edmonton Bulletin Special Correspondent Aboard Loyal Edmontons' Train

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Oct. 5—Biggest problem facing men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment when they finally get off the special train which is due to debouch here in Edmonton Saturday afternoon is going to be to learn to use Canadian money again, most of the men agree.

They are familiar enough with Italian lire, French francs, Belgian francs, Dutch guilders, German marks, the British shillings, pence and pounds. Some of them know all about Russian roubles. And, of course, they know about dimes, quarters and dollars. But for the past six months on the continent the standard of exchange was cigarettes.

Money was useless as a medium of exchange because it just wouldn't buy anything. Most transactions were carried on entirely by barter and the standard of exchange was one cigarette. One cigarette incidentally, had a standard exchange value of about 50 cents in Canadian money, and often the men got even greater value.

German Contax cameras valued at about $300 today were bought by some of the men for 1,000 cigarettes. One man has a Bell and Howell 16-MM movie camera with a 1.8 lens for 400 cigarettes — the camera is worth that many dollars. Cigarettes, throughout the country, has practically replaced money as a medium of exchange and a measure of values. Most black market transactions were carried out in cigarettes.

They aren't good citizens anyway, and have no right to expect the privileges of citizenship because they would not accept the responsibilities of citizenship.

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the proposal to provide bus service for five southeastern sections of the city next year?

THE ANSWERS

HARRY HARDWICK, business man: I think from the report available that the service will be well justified. I hope it is ready at the earliest possible moment.

GEORGE PHILIPSON, mechanic: I am glad to see the bus service in general extended and I think the proposed route considered will provide a much-needed service.

SAM FREEMAN, traveller: There is no doubt the service proposed is needed and I am sure the residents of the areas will benefit by it.

JC New Members Dinner Arranged

Invitations were issued Thursday to new members of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce to attend a special "new members dinner" at the Corona hotel at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10. It is expected that 40 new members will attend, by invitation only. Leonard Aldridge, chairman of the chamber's membership committee, has charge of arrangements.

24,500 NRMA Men Evading Army Service

OTTAWA, Oct. 5—(CP)—There were 11,145 NRMA deserters and absentees and 13,416 Canadian draft dodgers still at large Sept. 1, it was disclosed in a return tabled in the Commons last night by State Secretary Martin.

Usually a man absent without leave or "AWL" from the service for 21 days is considered an absentee while a man absent longer than that period is considered a deserter. A draft dodger is a defaulter who fails to respond to his military call-up.

Absenteeism, which became a mass movement about a year ago when 7,800 infantry reinforcements failed to report for overseas draft, has resulted in 6,576 prosecutions. No figures on the number of deserters prosecuted are available. To July 31, 11,432 draft dodgers had been prosecuted.

Mr. Martin's statement was made in reply to questions asked by John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre).

FULL FIGURES

Of the deserters and absentees without leave 5,875 came from MD 5 (Quebec City) and 2,790 from MD 4 (Montreal). The latter figures included MD 10 (Winnipeg) 578; Pacific command 186; MD 12 (Regina) 287 and MD 13 (Calgary) 229.

Of the defaulters 9,647 came from Quebec, 2,597 from Ontario, 199 from Manitoba, 178 from Saskatchewan, 85 from Alberta, and 466 from British Columbia.

At the end of last July, 11,432 NRMA defaulters had been prosecuted and 2,347 had been sentenced to imprisonment. Of those prosecuted, 5,822 were reported from Quebec, 1,864 from Manitoba and 1,706 from Ontario. Of those imprisoned, 853 were reported from Quebec, 477 from Ontario and 432 from Manitoba.

There were 6,576 prosecuted and found guilty but not sentenced to imprisonment.

ACTION ON DESERTERS

Figures as to the numbers of deserters prosecuted were not available. They had been dealt with in two ways, by summary hearing before his commanding officer or by court-martial. In neither case was it feasible to produce figures.

On Aug. 29 there were 35,276 NRMA personnel in the Canadian Army in Canada and "adjacent territories."

On Sept. 1, 6,066 NRMA troops were absent on farm leave, 585 because they are needed in industry, and 1,801 for other reasons, a total of 8,422. In addition, 75 men were on farm duty and 525 on industrial duty.

On medical grounds, 2,451 NRMA men were discharged up to Aug. 31 and "on other grounds" the total was 1,404.

Recommend Southeast Bus Service For Districts Near Bonnie Doon

A southeast bus service loop will be established next year to serve residents in the Bonnie Doon, Ritchie, Cloverdale, King Edward Park and Riverheights districts if recommendations of the city commissioners and City Engineer A. W. Haddow are approved by city council.

A report on the proposed route will be submitted by the city commissioners to city council's transportation committee Friday in which the early acceptance of their recommendation is urged so that the necessary equipment may be ordered in time for operations next summer.

The approxmate cost of the new route for equipment and necessary paving is set at $321,000. Of this total approximately $165,000 will be for the proposed purchase of seven 33-passenger diesel or gasoline buses, the balance being for paving sections of the route and repairing and widening portions now paved.

SUGGESTED ROUTE

The length of the proposed southeast loop is 5.65 miles, and it will serve a present population of 8,166. The suggested route to be followed will start at 82 avenue and 99 street and then south on 99 street, east on 76 avenue, north on 89 street, west on 82 avenue, then north of 91 street, and west on 95 street and then northeast from 95 street down the Cloverdale hill on a new road to be located, then north on 93 street and west on 98 avenue to Scona road, from which point the present route downtown would be traversed.

It is proposed to give a 15-minute basic service with an eight-minute service during the peak load hours.

New paving, repairing and widening existing paving, grading, storm drainage and other work will cost approximately $215,000. It is proposed to pave a 22 foot strip with gravelled shoulders of six feet on each side, with the exception of the 98 avenue strip between 93 and 99 streets, where a 38 foot roadway with curb and gutter will be installed.

"It is assumed that the cost of paving the 22-foot centre strips on the bus route streets will be absorbed by the city at large, and if this pavement is widened to a normal local street that the adjoining property would be assessed on the additional width," Mr. Haddow's report to the committee states.

Dealing with revenue expected from the proposed loop, Mr. Haddow reported that the estimated revenue would be 22 cents per bus mile, resulting in a probable operational loss for the first year of $11,000. The route, he added, may be considered partially a feeder line. Last year the average fares per capita for the whole city were 297 as against 167 estimated for this route.

The route, Mr. Haddow predicts, will encourage development of an area where other utilities are available, or can economically be made available, and in addition there are substantial numbers of city owned lots which will be returned to the tax roll if present development continues.

He reports also that the route approaches the outer zone at the north end of 91 street between 93 and 95 avenues, and probable development will indicate the revision of the outer one boundaries at this point.

It is not considered possible to connect this route in the south side trolley bus line at the low level bridge as this service is already overloaded at times.

The commissioners stated in their report that "it has been realized for sometime that the proposed gas bus extension through the Bonnie Doon and Ritchie districts should have priority over any other new routes in the city. The residents of the Bonnie Doon district are under a handicap of having to take a roundabout route via 82 avenue to get in the north side, whereas if they can get direct connection, the whole district would be within 10 or 12 minutes riding time of the business centre.

NEAR UTILITIES

"There are many city-owned lots in the district already served with sewer and water, and many more within easy reach of sewer and water. It is expected these will develop rapidly when the district is given improved transportation.

"However, the most pressing reason for immediate action lies in the fact that about 500 families are being settled in the Ritchie, King Edward Park, and Riverheights districts as a result of Wartime Housing Ltd. activities."

Army Training Now Underway At University

Voluntary military training commenced this week at the University of Alberta. Maj. F. Owen is directing army training at the drill hall. Second in command is Major W. G. Hardy. Two company commanders are Capt. W. Broadfoot and Capt. Walter Johns. Captain Jacquest, recently returned from overseas, will succeed Capt. C. F. Perry as adjutant of the unit. Student officers and platoon commanders will be appointed next week.

Lt.-Cmdr. A. W. Matthews, assisted by Sub-Lt. F. S. McEvoy, will conduct the university naval training division. Lectures and parades will take place either at HMCS Nonsuch or at the campus drill hall.

Bank Clearings

Bank clearings through the Edmonton Clearing House for the week ended Oct. 4 amounted to $10,472,350.50 as against $9,584,477.05 for the corresponding week of last year.

WHITE—In Loving Memory of George Raymond White, who passed away October 4th, 1942, aged 13.

In his innocence and beauty,
With his soul as pure as snow,
He is nestled on the bosom
Of the God we love and know.
Beside his grave we often stand
With hearts both crushed and sore.
Yet through the gloom the sweet words come:
"Not lost, but gone before".

—Ever remembered by Mother and Dad, Brothers and Sisters and Grandmother.

Edmontonians Prepare Plans For Thanksgiving Week-End

Edmontonians are watching weather forecasts hopefully as they complete plans to spend the Thanksgiving week-end either in the country, on the golf links or in other outdoor pastimes in the city.

Stores dealing in the merchandise reported that a "considerable number" of advance orders had been placed for chickens and other fowl associated with Thanksgiving Day table fare. Gardeners reported that this year's pumpkin crop was satisfactory enough to insure that many a triangle of pumpkin pie would follow the main course on its gustatory travels.

Main item on the sports and entertainment program was the Junior Chamber of Commerce-Lions club Model-T Race meet at the Exhibition Grounds starting at 1:30 p.m. Theatres and other amusement places were planning interesting programs for the day.

LAST HOLIDAY

Thanksgiving Day is the last general holiday before Christmas, and according to the record of other years, certainly the last holiday to be spent with out mukluks, snowshoes and other cold weather garb.

Transportation companies reported heavy demands for accommodation. There will be capacity throngs on all trains and buses both coming in and leaving the city. The heavy influx of personnel from the armed services is causing railways to run at peak capacity.

Hotels reported heavy bookings with many reportedly unable to obtain accommodation.

SERVICING CARS

Service stations said that motorists were flooding them with work to get automobiles in first class running order to go shooting, visit summer cottages for a last look before winter sets in or for pleasure driving in and around the city.

With reasonable prospects of good weather, Edmontonians were looking forward to a joyous celebration of a real Thanksgiving—the most typical of the day since 1938.

Veterans Are Asked Gather at Station

Veterans from The Loyal Edmonton Regiment in the 1939-1945 war are asked to be present at the CNR station half an hour before the time announced for the arrival of the train carrying the regiment back to this city on Saturday. If they still have them, the veterans are asked to wear battle dress, waist belts, berets, puttees or gaiters and boots, if not they will be equally welcome in civilian clothes.

They are requested to "fall in" east of the CN station on 104 avenue in their original companies. Company commanders, each of them formerly associated with the various companies, will be present and veterans are asked to get in touch with them.

Maj. M. F. H. Browse, ED, for "A" Company; Major D. A. Petrie, ED, for "B"; Maj. J. R. Washburn for "C"; Major H. D. P. Tighe, MC, for "D"; Maj. E. M. Findlay for support and Maj. Allan McDonald, MBE, for HQ Company and BHQ is the roster of company commanders expected to be present.

The color party has been holding rehearsals and will be prepared to march the regiment's colors for the first time through the home city streets.

Check Standards For Craftsmen

Methods by which the qualifications of mechanics applying for licenses as master craftsmen in the building trades can be checked will be explored by the city commissioners, Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect, and the provincial department of trades and industry officials.

Decision to make provision for the setting of standards was made by members of the city council's by-laws committee Thursday, and a recommendation to start the probe will be sent to the city council for ratification.

The committee ordered the continuation of the suspension of the license of a city master plasterer. The mechanic had been reported for indifferent work, and on examination by the chief inspector of the city architect's department a report was filed urging the cancellation of the master plasterer's license.

It was stated at the meeting that the provincial department of trade and industry was formulating standards for all branches of the building trade.

The members of the bylaws committee were of the opinion that co-operation with the department would bring about the establishment of standards required prior to the issuance of masters' licenses.

Reduced Railway Fares Are Coming

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier said yesterday in the Commons he hoped to be able to announce in mid-January the lifting of restrictions on reduced railway fares. There would be no immediate removal, however, and the whole matter would be reviewed sometime after Jan. 1, 1946. He explained that during wartime it had been found necessary "in order to assure the maximum use of railway facilities for the prosecution of the war" to suspend or cancel certain reduced fares for holiday and excursion travel.

Urges Electors To Record Votes

That the electors of Edmonton, regardless for whom they vote, should realize the importance of electing a strong council for the coming year and make sure they record their votes on election day was the message left with three Edmonton women's organizations by Mrs. Julia Kiniski, independent aldermanic candidate, in addresses made Thursday.

"It is essential that the women of Edmonton realize the importance of this election," said Mrs. Kiniski. "These are days of doubt and uncertainty with many. Our returning soldiers are wondering what Canada has in store for them now they are back, and it will require the concentrated efforts of all to see them through the days of rehabilitation and to get our city back into its pre-war stride.

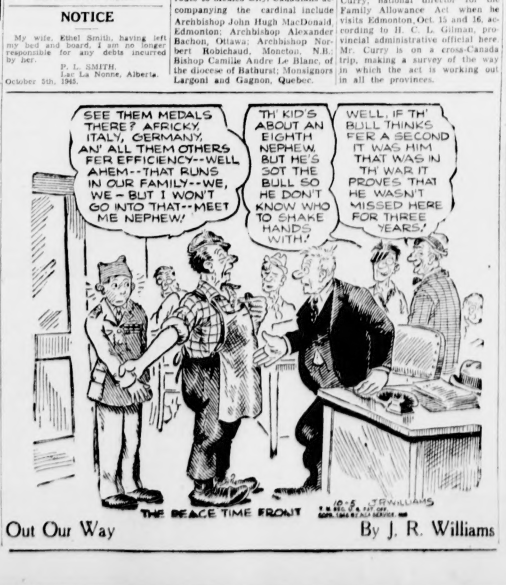

It is not only the soldiers who will have to be considered, but all the working people of the community, and all classes in Edmonton. We must unite everybody and see that in the new council all classes of the community are represented. That is why I ask that you get out and vote for the people you think are best able to represent you."

Mrs. Kiniski, who has been active in welfare work in Edmonton for some years past, and who has had members of her family in the fighting services, addressed meetings of Rebekah Lodge No. 25, IOOF; the Ukrainian Women's Association, and the Czecho-Slovakian group. She also addressed the navy mothers at their Thursday meeting.
